Introduction

This guide gives an overview of the funding available from August 2017 for learners or people who are thinking about learning. It is also a useful guide for practitioners to help them give others advice.

If you are thinking about starting a course, it’s a good idea to plan ahead and to be aware of the costs beforehand.

Whatever your age, abilities or family responsibilities you can apply to get help. There are many sources of funding available. One or more of them may well apply to you, whether you want to:

- stay on at school;
- go to college or university;
- study full-time or part-time; or
- learn while you are working.
What’s on offer?

The financial support you get will depend on different things such as:

- what course you want to study;
- your income and family circumstances;
- how old you are;
- where you want to study; and
- whether you want to study full-time, part-time or by distance learning (see below).

Distance learning is where the learner works on their own, at home or at work, and communicates with teachers and other learners by e-mail or using the internet.

Some funding comes as a grant, some as a loan and some in the form of free course fees. In most cases your income is assessed to see what you are entitled to and there is different support depending on the type of course you want to do.

Higher Education (HE) is courses of study which are at Higher National Certificate level or above (that is Scottish Credit and Qualification Framework level 7 or above). You can take them at college or at university and they include:

- an undergraduate honours degree;
- an undergraduate ordinary degree; or
- a Higher National Certificate (HNC) or Higher National Diploma (HND);
- a certificate of Higher Education (Cert HE) or Diploma of Higher Education (Dip HE)

Financial support for Higher Education usually comes as a loan, with a number of income-assessed grants (grants based on your income) for specific groups of students and bursaries for those from a low-income household.
Further Education (FE) is courses which are not taught in a school and are below Higher National Certificate (HNC) level. They cover levels 1 to 6 on the Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework (SCQF) and include:

- academic courses up to Higher level;
- courses that do not lead to formal qualifications (such as courses on independent living skills);
- courses on basic skills (such as reading, writing and number skills); and
- work-related courses, such as Scottish Vocational Qualifications (SVQs).

You may be able to get support for Further Education (in the form of a bursary) by having an assessment, but not everyone who applies is eligible for a bursary.

See our ‘quick guide’ (page 6) to find out what’s available. This is a general guide and only shows the funding that you may receive.

Contracted training provision – is training that is bought in, either by Skills Development Scotland or DWP/Jobcentre Plus (in the case of, for example, Work Able).

Do I qualify?

For some of the sources of funding you need to meet certain residency conditions. This means if you have not lived outside the UK (apart from being away temporarily or occasionally), you are likely to meet the residency conditions. However, if you are not sure whether you meet the residency conditions, we would advise you to contact the college (for Further Education courses) or the Student Awards Agency Scotland (SAAS) (for Higher Education courses). If you are a student in Higher Education, you should visit the SAAS website and use their Help and contact us service which is available at http://www.saas.gov.uk/contact.htm or call on 0300 555 0505.

In general, the residency conditions are as follows.

- You must be ordinarily resident (see definition below) in the UK, the Channel Islands or the Isle of Man for the three years immediately before the first day of the first academic year of the course.

- You must also be an ‘ordinarily resident’ (see below) in Scotland on the first day of the first academic year of the course. In Further Education, this will be the date your course starts.

- In Higher Education, you must be ordinarily resident on the following dates:
  - 1 August 2017 for courses that start between 1 August 2017 and 31 December 2017
  - 1 January 2018 for courses that start between 1 January 2018 and 31 March 2018
  - 1 April 2018 for courses that start between 1 April 2018 and 30 June 2018
  - 1 July 2018 for courses that start between 1 July 2018 and 31 July 2018

- If you are not a UK or other EU national, you must also be settled in the UK as set out in the Immigration Act 1971 on the first day of the first academic year of the course. In Further Education, this is the date your course starts, for Higher Education, see the dates above.

There are circumstances where a student can be considered eligible for support although they do not automatically fulfil the ordinary residence requirements, for example, because they or their family have temporarily been studying or working abroad. For a course of Further Education, Colleges are responsible for assessing whether a student fulfils the residence criteria set out in the current Education (Access Funds) Direction & Determination.
Students should speak to college Bursary Officers to discuss residency and any student support they may be eligible for. For a course of Higher Education, SAAS will decide if you are eligible to apply to them for support as set out in the Students’ Allowances (Scotland) Regulations 2007 (as amended).

What does ‘ordinarily resident’ mean?

The courts have defined ordinary residence as ‘habitual and normal residence in one place’. Basically this means that you live in a country year after year by choice throughout a set period. This allows for times when you are out of the country temporarily or occasionally for things like holidays or business trips, and may cover you if you or someone in your family is temporarily posted abroad by their employer.

In most cases you may not be treated as ordinarily resident in Scotland if your main purpose in coming here is to study and you would normally be living in another country.

Please note there are different rules for asylum seekers, refugees, migrant workers, EU nationals, children of Swiss nationals, children of Turkish workers and Iraqi nationals who have entered the UK via the LESAS scheme.

You can find more information on residency from the SAAS website at http://www.saas.gov.uk/_forms/residence.pdf
Staying on at school or attending college (16-19 year olds)

Education Maintenance Allowance (EMA)

If you want to stay on at school after your school leaving date (there are two school leaving dates in a year – your earliest leaving date depends on when you turn 16) you may be eligible for an Education Maintenance Allowance (EMA). EMAs provide financial support for 16 to 19 year olds from low income families who attend school on a full time basis, or undertake a full-time or part-time non-advanced course at college. EMA is also payable to eligible young people on Activity Agreements. In order to qualify for an EMA you must meet the criteria in place, which includes household income (see below), age, residency status and the course you are studying must be applicable. The programme is managed by your Local Education Authority or your FE college.

EMA is payable during term time for school and college students, and up to 52 weeks per year for Activity Agreements. It is paid directly into the young person's bank account and can only be paid for full weeks within term time and only where 100% of agreed weekly attendance has been achieved. Colleges and local authorities have discretion to offer flexibility around attendance. A young person can receive either an EMA or a maintenance bursary but not both. However if you receive an EMA you may still be entitled to other forms of bursary support, for example a travel bursary.

To be eligible for an EMA you must also have a current signed Learning Agreement which should be completed for each academic year. This agreement sets out an agreed programme of learning between the applicant and the school or college for the coming year and you must adhere to the conditions of that Learning Agreement. The local authority may discontinue the EMA payments where the information supplied by the institution states that you have failed to comply with your Learning Agreement. For more information and to receive an application form you should contact your school, college or local authority.

<thead>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>

<td>£30</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

You can get more information on EMAs from your school, college or local authority.

Full-time students

If you are a full-time student you will generally not have to pay fees as long as you meet certain conditions.

You may also be eligible for:

- help with living costs (for you and your dependants);
- help with travel, books and equipment;
- help towards childcare; and
- extra help (from discretionary funds – see page 13 for full details).
Full-time students in Further Education

Fees

If you are a full-time student you will not have to pay fees as long as you meet certain residency conditions. If you are not sure whether you meet these conditions, check with the college you have chosen to study at.

Living costs

You could receive a bursary of up to £97.33 a week, but this will depend on your age, family circumstances and income. You would not have to pay this bursary back. To be eligible for a bursary, you must meet certain residency conditions. If your household income is above the levels set out below, your family will be expected to contribute to your financial support.

The basic allowance per week is as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Household income of less than (see note 2 below)</th>
<th>Living with your parents, you could get up to</th>
<th>Living away from home, you could get up to</th>
<th>Supporting yourself, you could get up to</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>If you are under 18 (see note 1 below)</td>
<td>£20,351</td>
<td>£0</td>
<td>Does not apply</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>If you are aged between 18 and 25</td>
<td>£24,275</td>
<td>£77.01</td>
<td>£97.33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>If you are aged 25 and above, supporting yourself, or living with a partner (you and your partner’s income – if you have one - will be assessed)</td>
<td>£20,643</td>
<td>Does not apply</td>
<td>Does not apply</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>£97.33</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Note 1 – If you are going to college you may be eligible for an Education Maintenance Allowance – see the table on page 10.

Note 2 - The award amount is dependent on household income levels

Note 3 – You may get this allowance as well as an Education Maintenance Allowance.

Note 4 – Any income earned by the student, whether they are self-supporting, living with parents or living with a partner, is not counted as Household Income.

You may also be eligible for an extra allowance to cover certain study costs such as:

- items that you must have to do the course (such as set texts, but not extra (further) reading);
- items that you need for health and safety reasons;
- study trips you have to go on as part of your course.
There is no age limit on study allowance, therefore if you are eligible for bursary support you may be eligible for travel and study costs. If you are under 18, and eligible for EMA, study allowance will not be assessed against your income.

Help for your dependants

Dependant’s Allowance
You may be able to apply for a Dependant’s Allowance of £54.69 a week if you are financially or legally responsible for an adult (including caring for someone). This allowance is also assessed on you and your dependant's income and your family circumstances.

Childcare costs
Colleges have a Childcare Fund which they use to help their students pay for registered childcare. The priority groups for support with childcare are students who are lone (single) parents, mature students and part time students. However, this does not mean full-time students cannot apply for help with their childcare costs. If you receive support from this fund it is on top of any bursary you receive and you should use childcare support to meet the costs of registered childcare only. Some colleges may offer different methods of support, for example, on-site nurseries or childcare vouchers.

Help for disabled students

Additional Support Needs for Learning Allowance
If you have to pay extra costs because of your disability you can apply for an Additional Support Needs for Learning Allowance. This allowance offers help towards your travel and study costs, on top of any other disability grants and benefits you might receive. It is not based on your income.

Travel Costs
You can apply for help with travel costs if you are going to an approved course of study, depending on the eligibility conditions set by the college. If you have dependent children you may be able to get help with extra costs for travel or for extra support. If you are under 18, and eligible for EMA, this allowance will not be based on your income.

Extra Help

Every college runs a Discretionary Fund and students with particular financial difficulties or emergency needs can apply for help from this fund. Discretionary Funds are specifically targeted to help students who have financial difficulties that might prevent them getting access to Further or Higher Education, or from continuing their course. Colleges can also decide whether to give help from their Discretionary Fund to a student who is trying to get off benefits to take a course.

Studying outside Scotland

All the financial support described above is only available if you are studying at a Scottish College. If you want to study a Further Education (FE) course at a college outside Scotland, you will need to contact your local authority to see what funding they can provide.

---

Further Education

If you want more information about the support available and for advice on how to apply for funding you should contact the college you have chosen to study at.

You can get more information on Education Maintenance Allowances by visiting the website www.emascotland.com

Full-time students in Higher Education

Studying in Scotland

Fees

Most full-time students do not have to pay for the cost of their course if studying for an HNC, HND or first degree or equivalent for the first time. The Student Awards Agency Scotland (SAAS) will pay the tuition fees for eligible students studying at institutions in Scotland. You must still apply to SAAS to get your tuition fees paid even if you are not applying for any other type of support.

Living costs

Student loans

The maximum loan you can get is £6,750 if you are 25 years or older, married or self-supporting at the start of your course. If you are under 25 years and none of the above applies to you, the maximum loan is £5,750. If your household income is over £34,000 a year the maximum loan you can get is £4,750 in all cases.

Young Students’ Bursary

If you are under 25 you may qualify for a bursary (a grant assessed on your household income, which you do not have to pay back) of up to £1,875 a year. You may be able to get a bursary whether you live with your parents or live away from home during term time. The bursary will go down to zero for a household income over £34,000 a year. If you have done a course of higher education before, you may not receive this bursary for some or all of your course.

Independent Students’ Bursary

An Independent Students’ Bursary of up to £875 is available for eligible independent students if your household income is £18,999 or less a year. If you have done a course of higher education before you may not receive this bursary for some or all of your course.
The following table shows examples of the support available for 2017-2018.

These figures combine the bursary and the student loan.

Care Experienced Students’ Bursary

From 2017-2018, new and continuing care experienced students undertaking an eligible undergraduate course will be eligible to apply for a non-income assessed Care Experienced Students Bursary. The amount available in 2017-2018 is £7,625.

This new bursary replaces the current income-assessed living cost loan and bursary package. As such, if you apply for and meet the criteria to receive the Care Experienced Bursary, you will not be eligible to apply for a student loan.

You may be eligible to claim the Care Experienced Student Bursary if:

- You have ever been looked after by a Local Authority in the UK; and
- You are under 26 on the first day of the first academic year of your course (the relevant date). For most students, who start in the autumn term, the relevant date is 1 August.

You can find more information on Care Experienced Students’ Bursary from the SAAS website at http://www.saas.gov.uk/_forms/care_leavers_grant.pdf
Scottish Government Health Directorate Bursary

Nursing and Midwifery

There are different arrangements for Nursing and Midwifery courses. All eligible students get a bursary. You may also be eligible for a dependant’s allowance (based on your income), lone parent and childcare allowances and help towards extra clinical placement costs. Contact SAAS for more information.

More information on what support is available to Nursing and Midwifery Students can be found at: http://www.saas.gov.uk/full_time/nmsb/index.htm

Monthly payments

Scottish students studying undergraduate courses at Scottish institutions receive their loans, bursaries and grants every month. This applies to student loans, the Young and Independent Students’ Bursary and all other grants except Disabled Students’ Allowance and Care–experienced Accommodation Grant.

There will be more details on monthly payments in the award letters SAAS and the Student Loans Company give you. You can also get information at www.saas.gov.uk

</tbody>
</table>

If you are a full-time Scottish student studying in England, Wales or Northern Ireland you:

- can apply to SAAS for a loan to cover the costs of fees at institutions in the rest of the UK;
- could get a loan of up to £9,250 a year (this loan is not based on your or your households income); and
- repay your loan only after you finish your course and start earning over £17,775 a year.

Living costs

If you are a Scottish student studying in England, Wales or Northern Ireland, you can claim the same support available to those who study in Scotland. Please refer to the table on page 15 for how much loan and bursary you may be entitled too.

Studying a year of your course abroad

Eligible Scottish university students, who do a year of their course abroad, will receive the same support they would have received had they stayed at their home university – this includes payment of tuition fees. The study abroad can be compulsory, voluntary and part of a European or non-European exchange programme. If your study abroad is compulsory, you can get help with the cost of your air fares and medical insurance. You should contact your home university for more information. Further information on the Erasmus scheme is available from www.britishcouncil.org/erasmus.
Portability Pilot

Under the Portability Pilot you may be eligible for support for a course at participating EU universities. Scottish domiciled students studying at eligible European universities can apply for the same bursary and loan support as students attending university in Scotland.

The pilot will run until the end of academic year 2017-18. Students interested in this opportunity should note that the support will not end after academic year 2017-18, as students will be supported for the duration of their undergraduate course.

More information on the pilot can be found here.

Help for your dependants

The grants and support detailed below are not loans and you do not need to pay them back.

Adult Dependant’s Grant

You can claim the Adult Dependant’s Grant for your husband, wife, civil partner or partner (it is based on their income). The most you could get is £2,640 a year. If you get married or form a civil partnership or start to live with your partner after your course starts, you can claim the Adult Dependant’s Grant for your husband, wife, civil partner or partner from the date of your marriage or civil partnership or when you start living with your partner. You cannot claim the Adult Dependant’s Grant if your husband, wife, civil partner or partner also receives student support.

Lone Parent’s Grant

If you are a student and have been widowed, divorced, separated or are single and you are bringing up at least one child on your own, who is still dependent on you, you can claim an extra grant of up to £1,305 a year. The amount you receive will be based on the unearned income you have while you study, for example, Working Tax Credits.

You should apply to SAAS for both the Adult Dependant’s Grant and Lone Parent’s Grant.

Childcare Fund Support

In addition to the above, Scottish Ministers also provide Childcare Funds to Scottish publicly-funded institutions to help lone parents with the costs of registered or formal childcare – formal childcare includes childminders, after school clubs, day care, sitter services and providers of pre-school and education.

Eligible lone parent students with formal registered childcare costs can apply for an entitlement of up to £1,215 from this fund. Further support may also be available, however this fund is administered by institutions and they have responsibility for deciding what payments they give to students.

You should apply directly to your institution for support. Please note, not all eligible students will receive help, as the fund is limited.
Travel costs

The following groups of students may be eligible for some additional help towards some of their travel costs:

- Those doing an Allied Health Profession degree, a nursing diploma or nursing degree can get help with their placement travel expenses only.
- Disabled students who cannot use public transport.
- Students doing a compulsory period of study abroad can claim for reimbursement of their air fares and medical insurance only.

Please contact the Student Awards Agency Scotland on 0300 555 0505 or visit www.saas.gov.uk for more information.

Help for disabled students

Disabled Student’s Allowance (DSA)

If you have to pay extra costs while you are studying because of your disability, you can apply for a Disabled Students Allowance (DSA) for extra support.

DSA is made up of the following three allowances.

- The Basic Allowance is an allowance of up £1,725 a year that you may claim towards general costs such as audio tapes, Braille paper, radio aids, medically certified special dietary needs and small items of equipment.

- Special Equipment Allowance is an allowance of up to £5,160 to help you buy things like major items of equipment (for example, a computer, laptop or a portable loop). The most you can get is set when you make your initial claim and the amount you receive is for the whole of your course, not for each year.

- Non-Medical Personal Help is an allowance of up to £20,520 a year for non-medical personal help (for example, for a reader if you are blind, or for someone to take notes for you).

You may also be able to get help towards your travel costs if you cannot use public transport and have to pay extra costs as a result of your disability.

For more information on the help that is available for disabled learners visit http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Topics/Education/UniversitiesColleges/16640/learnerfunding
Extra help

Discretionary Funds
If you are having particular financial difficulties you can apply for help from your college or university Discretionary Fund. These funds are specifically to help students who have financial difficulties. You don’t have to wait until you are on the course to apply for help from this fund. Your college or university is responsible for deciding who can have help from its Discretionary Fund and how much they can have. You must have taken out your full student loan entitlement before you can receive this help.

Care-experienced Accommodation Grant
If you are a ‘care leaver’ (you left care on or after your 16th birthday), you may be able to get a grant of up to £105 a week. This is to help you pay for certain accommodation costs that you may have during the summer vacation that falls in between each year of your course or programme of study.

Higher Education

Funding for postgraduate courses

Postgraduate Loans

If you are planning to study on a full time or part-time postgraduate course you may be eligible to apply to the Student Awards Agency for Scotland (SAAS) for a tuition fee loan of up to £5,500 (£2,750 if studying part-time) towards the cost of your tuition fees. You may also be eligible for a living cost loan of up to £4,500.

The courses that qualify are ‘taught’ postgraduate diplomas and Masters courses. Eligible Scottish domiciled and EU students on eligible courses can apply for help with their tuition fee and living costs from this scheme. You can find out more on the SAAS website – http://www.saas.gov.uk/full_time/pg/index.htm

Professional Graduate Diploma in Education (PGDE)

If you take this course you may be eligible for the same funding as an undergraduate unless you have already taken a postgraduate course.

If you are studying a PGDE course in a priority subject you may receive an award no matter what you studied in the past. You can get more information from SAAS about priority subjects for 2017-2018.

Funding from a Research Council

The UK Research Councils fund some postgraduate degrees, such as a Masters degree or a Doctorate (PhD). All the Research Councils are independent from each other. Even if your course meets their conditions for funding it does not mean you are guaranteed support. Research Councils each have their own rules for awarding grants to students on postgraduate courses.

Other funding

Most students on postgraduate courses fund themselves, although many students at this level get a Professional Career Development loan or other loans from banks, ask a company or organisation to sponsor them, receive help from educational trusts or study part-time so they can work.
Help for disabled students on a postgraduate course

If you are a postgraduate student, you may also be eligible for the Disabled Student’s Allowance (DSA) (see page 21), as long as you are not receiving support from a Research Council or the Scottish Social Services Council, who can provide similar support to the DSA. The amount of basic allowance you receive and any allowance for your non-medical helpers will be in line with the time you spend studying. For example, if you are studying 50% of an eligible full-time Higher Education qualification, you will be able to claim 50% of these allowances.

More information on postgraduate funding can be found at http://www.saas.gov.uk/full_time/pg/index.htm

Part-time students

Part-time study includes all study that is not full-time and can range from a morning/afternoon or evening class, day or block release, and can include infilling into classes of full-time courses.

As a part-time student you can claim for some of the same support as full-time students, such as:

- childcare costs;
- help from the Discretionary Fund; and
- help towards travel and study costs.
Part-time Further Education

Fees

Most students studying part-time and on distance learning courses will have to pay tuition fees. However, if you receive certain benefits, are on a low income or are disabled you may be eligible for free tuition.

If you are 16 or over, have a personal income of £22,000 a year or less and are not already engaged in Scottish Government funded learning or training, you may qualify for an Individual Learning Account (ILA). This means you could get up to £200 a year towards the cost of some courses. For more information on the full eligibility criteria and the courses which ILA can be used to support visit http://www.myworldofwork.co.uk/section/funding or call SDS on 0800 917 8000.

Living costs

You cannot get a maintenance bursary if you are a part-time student in further education. However, from 1 January 2016, students on part-time non-advanced college courses may be eligible for an Education Maintenance Allowance (EMA) (see page 9). Also, if you will face financial difficulties as a result of going to your course, you should discuss this with your college.

If you are not working but studying part-time you may still qualify for Jobseeker’s Allowance, as long as you can show that you’re still available and are looking for work. The number of hours you can study depends on your age. You may also still be able to receive Universal Credit or other benefits. If this applies to you contact your local Jobcentre Plus office (their details are in your local phone book).

Help for your dependants

Childcare costs

If you are a part-time student you are also one of the priority groups eligible for childcare support. Colleges have a Childcare Fund which they use to help you pay for registered childcare.
Extra help
You may also be eligible for support towards appropriate study and travel expenses, as well as the Additional Support Needs for Learning Allowance.

You may also be able to get some financial help from the Discretionary Fund.

Part-time Further Education
Please contact your college for more information and to find out what help you may be able to get.
Part-time Higher Education

Fees

Eligible learners can apply for the Part-time Fee Grant from the Student Awards Agency Scotland. The level of tuition fee will be pro-rata on the number of SCQF credits you study. We will scale this down based on the maximum fee levels we award to full-time students (120 credits). The maximum Part-time Fee Grant we can award will be:

- £1,805 for publicly funded degree level courses
- £1,820 for 120 credit degree level courses at non-campus universities
- £1,274 for publicly funded Higher National awards (HNC/HND)
- £1,195 for all courses at private providers

To get this funding you should be 16 or over and have a personal income of £25,000 a year or less. You should also be studying a part-time Higher Education course, Professional Development Award (PDAs) or Continuing Professional Development (CPD) at SCQF levels 7-10* and complete between 30-119 SCQF credits per year.

Speak to your college or university or call Student Awards Agency Scotland on 0300 300 3137 or visit http://www.saas.gov.uk/ to find out if your course qualifies.

If you wish to study a part-time Higher Education course that is less than 30 SCQF credits you may still be able to get up to £200 towards the cost of the course through an Individual Learning Account (ILA)*. If you are over 16, have a personal income of £22,000 a year or less and are not already engaged in Scottish Government funded learning or training, you may be eligible for this funding. For more information on the full eligibility criteria and the courses which ILA can be used to support visit http://www.skillsdevelopmentscotland.co.uk/our-services/sds-individual-learning-accounts.aspx or call SDS on 0800 917 8000.

* A new scheme, Individual Training Accounts (ITAs) will come into effect in October 2017.
Living costs

Your college or university may be able to give you extra support from their part-time Discretionary Fund. Colleges and universities can provide flexible support for part-time students which you can use for study costs, travel costs and childcare costs which the college or university will base on your individual need rather than on fixed levels of income.

Help for disabled students

If you are disabled and are studying by distance learning or studying part-time you may also be eligible for the Disabled Student’s Allowance (DSA) (see page 21), which is not based on your income. Providing you are studying for at least 50% of the length of the full time course (for Open University students this is the equivalent of 60 credits per year) and you do not take more than twice the length of time of the standard full time course to complete your studies.

More information on part-time postgraduate funding can be found at http://www.saas.gov.uk/part_time/pg/funding_available.htm

For more information on support for students on a part-time Higher Education course. Please contact SAAS, your university, college, Open University or SDS.
Learning while you work

One way to make sure you have a steady income while you study is to carry out work-based learning. At the very least you will get a training allowance, and very often you’ll get a full wage at the current rate for the job you’re doing. Work-based learning includes the following.

Modern Apprenticeships

Modern Apprenticeships offer people aged 16 and over paid employment while training for jobs at craft, technician and management level. All apprentices in Scotland are employed for the duration of their training.

A Modern Apprenticeship (MA) is a vocational training award. It is not a qualification in itself, but each MA framework contains separately assessed elements around knowledge-based, competence-based, and core skills. Most MA Frameworks are underpinned by Scottish or National Vocational Qualifications (S/NVQs), which are built on National Occupational Standards (NOS).

To complete their MA, candidates must achieve an S/NVQ (or appropriate accredited vocational qualification) at level 2 or above and all 5 core skills – IT, Problem Solving, Numeracy, Communication and Working with Others.

Modern Apprenticeship funding represents a contribution towards the cost of training the apprentice. The current focus for public funding for Modern Apprenticeships is to support young people entering the workforce from school. Targeted support is available for adults to reflect and support the Scottish Government’s economic policy.

Further information about Modern Apprenticeships is available by phoning the Skills Development Scotland helpline on 0808 100 1050 or by visiting their website at http://www.skillsdevelopmentscotland.co.uk/our-services/services-for-individuals/national-training-programmes/modern-apprenticeships.aspx

MA vacancies, searchable by sector and by geographic area is available from the Apprenticeships in Scotland website at http://www.apprenticeshipsinscotland.com /
The Employability Fund

From 1 April 2013, the Employability Fund brought together existing Scottish Government investment in pre-employment training. This moved away from the funding of specific programmes of learning, such as Get Ready for Work and Training for Work, towards provision better tailored to the needs of participants and local labour markets.

The majority of support through the Employability Fund is focused on young people, however the Scottish Government also recognises the need to have provision targeted at meeting the needs of adults who have been unemployed up to 12 months towards and into work. The fund is expected to deliver 9,000 individual training opportunities contracted by Skills Development Scotland in 2017-18.

Young people aged 16-18 participating on the Employability Fund will receive a training allowance of £55 per week. Unemployed adults aged 18+ will receive a training equivalent to what they would otherwise receive in DWP Benefits.

Further information on the Employability Fund is available at https://www.skillsdevelopmentscotland.co.uk/what-we-do/our-products/employability-fund/or by calling SDS on 0141 285 6000. Your Careers Advisor or Jobcentre Plus Advisor may also be able to provide you with information on the opportunities available in your area.

Get Britain Working

‘Get Britain Working’ refers to the package of back to work support being offered by the UK Government’s Department for Work and Pensions (DWP).

There are three main aspects to this:

1. Personalised advice and support from Jobcentre Plus;

2. The Get Britain Working measures: a menu of flexible support options that will supplement the advice and support provided by Jobcentre Plus; and

3. The Work Programme, delivered by contracted providers (in Scotland, Ingeus and Working Links) and focused on longer term unemployed people and those customers needing more intensive support.

The Get Britain Working measures are as follows:
• more sharing of skills and experience through Work Clubs and Enterprise Clubs;
• volunteering is used as a way of developing work skills;
• pre-employment training and work placements through sector-based work academies;
• greater insight into the world of work through Work Experience; and
• self-employment as a route off benefits through the New Enterprise Allowance.

Through the Youth Contract, launched in April 2012, additional support is being provided to help young people aged 18-24 into work. Measures relevant to Scotland are as follows:

  Additional personal adviser time is offered to young people who are in receipt of benefit and provides intensive support. Additional work experience opportunities and places on sector-based work academies.

Jobcentre Plus Support for people with Health Conditions and Disabilities

In addition to the support offered by DWP under “Get Britain Working” the following range of support services is offered by Jobcentre Plus to people with Health Conditions and Disabilities.

Disability Employment Adviser (DEA) – Specialist Advisers who assist people with Health Conditions and Disabilities gain and retain employment. The DEA will agree an Action Plan with individuals, detailing the steps to be taken back into employment and the appropriate support route. They will advise on the specialist programmes available to people with Health Conditions and Disabilities such as “Access to Work” and “Work Choice”.

Access to Work – Assists people, over 16 who are in paid employment, have a job to start or an interview for a job, by providing practical support to overcome work related obstacles from disability. There is an employer cost share involved in some cases.

DWP Specialist Employability Support (SES) programme provides tailored help for those disabled people who require the most support to move closer to the labour market and for whom other provision is unsuitable. It is designed to address all types of disability including mental health and learning disability.

From October 2016, weekly work search reviews will be introduced for all new Job Seekers Allowance (JSA) and Universal Credit (UC) customers for the first 13 weeks.
SDS Individual Learning Accounts*

SDS Individual Learning Account (ILA) funding is targeted at low paid, low skilled and unemployed individuals who are not already engaged in Scottish Government funded learning or training. Eligible individuals can access up to £200 each year to fund a wide range of courses which may help them move towards and into work or to progress within existing employment.

For more information on the full eligibility criteria and the courses which ILA can be used to support visit http://www.skillsdevelopmentscotland.co.uk/our-services/sds-individual-learning-accounts.aspx or call SDS on 0800 917 8000.

* A new scheme, Individual Training Accounts (ITAs) will come into effect in October 2017.

Professional and Career Development Loans (PCDLs)

PCDLs are bank loans to help cover a wide range of vocational training (the skills needed for an occupation, trade or profession) or education for adults. The Government supports these loans by paying the interest on the loan while you carry out your training.

From September 2009 a number of changes were introduced to make PCDLs more flexible. The maximum loan rose to £10,000 and the level of loan finance is now 100% of course fees for those who are unemployed. For all other applicants the maximum is 80%.

You can now borrow between £300 and £10,000 to help you pay for any course that will help you in your career. In general, you can’t use a PCDL to pay for anything that is being funded by another source. So, if you receive a grant or student loan, you are not eligible to apply for a PCDL. To find out more about PCDLs call free on 0800 100 900 or visit https://www.gov.uk/career-development-loans/overview
Community Based Adult Learning

Community-based learning opportunities (provided by a range of organisations such as local authorities and voluntary organisations) may be available free of charge in your local area.

Information may be available from a variety of local Community Learning and Development (CLD) services (e.g. a community centre) and from many public libraries. You can find details for CLD in your local authority area at www.cldms.org.uk

Adult literacy and numeracy – help with reading writing and numbers

If you or someone you know needs help with reading, writing and numbers, call The Big Plus free on 0800 917 8000. Tutor support is free and there are venues across the country in every community. You can also find out more at www.thebigplus.com

Partnership Action for Continuing Employment

If you have been made redundant, you can get support through Partnership Action for Continuing Employment (PACE). PACE is the Scottish Government’s initiative for responding to redundancy situations. Through providing skills development and employability support, PACE aims to minimise the time people affected by redundancy are out of work.

Skills Development Scotland leads on the delivery of PACE on behalf of the Scottish Government in conjunction with a number of key partners including the Department for Work and Pensions. There are eighteen local PACE teams across Scotland to ensure a speedy and effective response.

PACE support is tailored to meet individual needs and local circumstances and includes: one to one counselling; information on rights and entitlements, benefits entitlement and tax calculation; help with job search; CV writing, application forms and covering letters; preparation for interviews; identifying learning and training opportunities; starting up a business; making the most of your money; and coping with redundancy related stress.

To find out more call the PACE Helpline on 0800 917 8000 or visit the website www.redundancyscotland.co.uk
Other sources of funding

Educational trusts and scholarships

If you are not eligible to receive support from public funds, you may find it useful to check the Directory of Grant Making Trusts (published by the Charities Aid Foundation), the Grants Register (published by MacMillan), or the Charities Digest (published by the Education Grants Advisory Service). You can usually find these in large public libraries. SAAS also maintains a Register of Educational Endowments which has information on various Scottish trusts. You can only get help from a trust if you meet its eligibility conditions. These vary from trust to trust, and only the trustees can decide if you are eligible. For instance, conditions can relate to:

- where you live or where you were born;
- what schools you went to;
- your age;
- the course you are taking; and
- the college or university you go to.

You may also want to visit the website at www.scholarship-search.org.uk to look at the database of undergraduate and postgraduate scholarship awards that are offered by academic institutions, commercial organisations and charitable trusts.

Sponsorships and scholarships

Many industrial organisations and some government departments have schemes (usually competitive) to support students. You may be able to get details of these from your local Jobcentre Plus office.

If you get an income from a sponsorship, scholarship or from somewhere else to help you study this should not affect any other financial support you apply for.

For more details on scholarships go to www.scholarship-search.org.uk

Further information about other sources of funding is also available on the SAAS website - http://www.saas.gov.uk/_forms/other_sources_of_funding.pdf
Ministry of Defence service leavers

As part of a wider range of policies to assist service veterans and their families the Ministry of Defence (MOD) has developed a programme which meets the cost of tuition fees for study up to, and including, undergraduate degree level. This was introduced in academic year 2009-10.

Many Scottish service leavers will already qualify through standard Scottish Government Further and Higher Education funding arrangements to have the cost of their fees met. Some service leavers not covered by existing Scottish Government arrangements, for example, those undertaking part-time or studying elsewhere in the UK, may in some circumstances also qualify for fee support.

In Scotland, service leavers should identify themselves to the college or university and provide a registration certificate from the MOD proving eligibility for the scheme.

For any queries regarding the registration certificate please refer to the MOD or their services learning advisers i.e. Royal Navy, Air Force or Army education or learning advisers.

Benefits

Although most full-time students are not entitled to social security benefits, certain full-time students (including young people in Further Education without support from their parents, parents and disabled students) may be eligible. If you want to take a full-time course you should always ask at your local Jobcentre Plus office or local Citizens Advice Bureau about how this will affect your benefits.

If you are currently eligible for social security benefits, you are usually still entitled to them when you become a part-time student or choose to study a course by distance learning. It is important to discuss this with the student adviser at your college or university as well as your local Jobcentre Plus office.

Any extra help you receive for travel and study costs should not affect your benefits.

Tax Credits

If you are a student with dependent children you are entitled to claim Child Tax Credit from HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) (unless you are making a new claim, you have fewer than three children and you are in a universal credit full service, in which case you have to claim universal credit). You may be entitled to extra amounts if you have a disabled child. If you receive the highest amount of Child Tax Credit you are usually entitled to free school meals for your children. Contact your local education authority for more details on how to apply for free school meals.

If you are disabled, 60 or over or a single person with children and work 16 hours or more a week, you could also be eligible for Working Tax Credit, which provides extra money for people in work on a low income. If you have a partner and have children you must usually work 24 hours or more a week between you to get Working Tax Credit. Otherwise you must be over 25 and work at least 30 hours a week to be entitled to Working Tax Credit.

How much help you get depends on your circumstances. To find out more, visit www.hmrc.gov.uk or call the Tax Credit Information Line on 0345 300 3900. For more information about how tax affects students, visit http://www.hmrc.gov.uk/students

Benefits for living costs

Universal credit has been introduced throughout Scotland, mainly for single jobseekers, replacing current benefits for living costs, housing benefit and tax credits. If you live in a universal credit full service area and you need to make a new claim for benefit you must claim universal credit rather than current benefits (unless you have three or more children). If you get universal credit and start a full-time course you may be able to stay on universal credit if you are a parent, disabled, have a partner who is not a student, or are a young person under 21 in Further Education with no support from your parents in certain circumstances.

Note: you cannot make a new claim for income support, income-related Employment and Support Allowance, jobseeker’s allowance or housing benefit if you are already getting universal credit. You also cannot make a new claim for these benefits if you live in a universal credit full service area - you must claim universal credit instead.

If you do not live in a universal credit full service area, and you are a full-time student in Further Education under 21, and have no support from your parents in certain circumstances, or if you are a lone parent with a young child, you may be eligible for Income Support. If you get Disability Living Allowance (DLA) or Personal Independence Payment (PIP), you may be eligible for income-related Employment and Support Allowance (ESA). In Higher Education, these benefits will often not be paid during the academic year because of the student loan or grants, but you should receive them over the summer between academic years of the course. If you have a child but are not eligible for income support, you may be able to claim Jobseeker's allowance in the summer vacation between academic years of the course.

Housing Benefit

This helps you with the cost of your rent if you are on a low income. You are usually eligible to claim if you are a full-time student in Further Education and under 21 years old (or aged 21 if you turned 21 on your course). If you're a full-time student in Further Education aged 22 or over, or a full-time student in Higher Education, you may be able to get Housing Benefit if you are disabled or have children. Your local council will be able to give you more advice and provide you with application forms.

Council Tax

Most full-time students do not have to pay council tax. We call this being ‘exempt’. If you’re not exempt, for example, if you own your home and share with other adults who are not students, you may be entitled to Council Tax Reduction.

Health Benefits

If you're studying full-time and are under 19 you may qualify for a range of free health benefits, including dental treatment and glasses (if you need them). Otherwise, you may qualify for medical benefits if you're on a low income or another qualifying benefit. For more information call 0300 330 1343 or visit: http://www.nhsbsa.nhs.uk/792.aspx.

Benefits information
