The Scottish Government has produced this toolkit guide with a range of material for employers and EU citizens. It includes information on the UK Government’s EU Settlement Scheme, details of the application process and requirements, links to other resources and some practical suggestions about how you can support your EU employees in the workplace.
The UK is preparing to leave the EU and we know that EU citizens* have questions about what happens next and what they need to do.

Unfortunately, it’s still possible we might leave without a deal and this will affect EU citizens who have chosen to live here.

The Scottish Government is doing all it can to support EU citizens to stay in Scotland and we know employers want to help too. So, to help, we’ve produced a package of support to guide EU citizens through the steps they need to take to stay in Scotland. Along with others, we also lobbied the UK Government to scrap the settled status fee, and applications to the EU Settlement Scheme are now free.

You may wish to familiarise yourself with the requirements of the scheme as soon as possible to support your employees and their families through this process. You can use these resources to increase awareness with your EU citizen employees and employees that are family members of EU citizens.

The information in this guide is in line with the draft Withdrawal Agreement, and relates to the EU Settlement Scheme which opened in full on 30 March 2019. The EU Settlement Scheme will still go ahead, even if no deal is reached between the UK and the EU.

Together #WeAreScotland and our commitment is that we will support our EU citizens through this challenging time.

*EU citizens is used throughout this document and refers to EEA and Swiss nationals, who are eligible to apply to the EU Settlement Scheme

• Current ‘right to work’ checks (e.g. passport and/or national identity card) apply until the end of 2020.

• EU citizens can continue to use their passport or national identity card as proof of their rights until 30 June 2021.

• You must be careful that you do not provide immigration advice to your employees, unless you are qualified to do so. For more information please look at the guidance provided by the Office of the Immigration Services Commissioner.

• Employers have a duty not to discriminate against EU citizens in light of the UK’s Exit from the EU, as both a prospective and current employer.
What is the EU Settlement Scheme?

EU citizens and their families will have to apply to the UK Government’s EU Settlement Scheme by 30 June 2021 in order to continue living, working and studying in the UK after that date. The Scottish Government does not believe it is fair that EU citizens are being required to apply to the EU Settlement Scheme to retain the rights they already have, but because of Brexit this is unfortunately the case.

EU citizens who have been in the UK for five continuous years will be able to apply for ‘settled status’. EU citizens who have been in the UK less than five years can apply for ‘pre-settled status’. After five years continuous residency they can then apply for ‘settled status’.

Who is eligible to apply?

- EU citizens and their non-EU family members, including those with permanent residence documents.
- Citizens of Norway, Iceland, Lichtenstein and Switzerland.
- Irish citizens do not need to apply, but can if they wish. There are separate arrangements for Irish citizens under the Common Travel Area. Non-Irish non UK family members will need to apply.
- EU citizens with indefinite leave to remain or enter the UK will not need to apply.
What you need to know – How the EU Settlement Scheme works

How does the EU Settlement Scheme application process work?

The application process is online, accessible via a computer, tablet or mobile phone.

Applicants will need to provide factual information such as name, address and details of identity documents like a passport or national identity card, and a National Insurance number.

There are three parts to the application:

Identity – applicants will have to verify their identity. They can do this by scanning their biometric passport, national identity card or residence card using the ‘EU Exit: ID document check’ app. The app is only available on Android devices, but the UK Government have announced that it should be available on iPhones by the end of 2019. If people are unable to use Android devices they can: visit their nearest Citizens’ Advice Bureau, use a family member or friend’s Android device, visit an ID document scanning service location (find your nearest centre at www.gov.uk) or send their documents to the Home Office by post.

Proof of residence – EU citizens will need to show they have been resident in the UK. National Insurance numbers can be used for an automated check of government data. People without a National Insurance number will need to show other proof of residence.

Criminality – People will have to declare any criminal history in the UK or overseas as part of their application. The UK Government has said that only serious or persistent criminality will affect applications.
Scotland values the contribution made by EU citizens and is committed to supporting them through this challenging time. That is why we have introduced the ‘Stay in Scotland’ package to support EU citizens during the EU exit process. The Package will support EU citizens and their employers to make the process of applying for settled status easier.

How can employers support EU staff to stay in Scotland?

As well as signposting your EU staff to information and resources, including the Scottish Government’s toolkit, there are also some really simple things you can do to help your EU members of staff as an employer. You may wish to consider:

- That as an employer you will be a valuable source of evidence for your EU staff members who will have to show that they have been resident in the UK. You may be asked for evidence such as supporting letters, pay slips and contracts.

- Allowing EU staff members to take time out of their working day to make an application to the EU Settlement Scheme.

- Making Android devices available for staff in a quiet space at work to use the EU Exit: ID Document Check app to complete the identity part of the application.

- You may also want to arrange access to immigration or legal advice for EU staff who may have complex needs.
Assisted Digital

The UK Government will provide an Assisted Digital Service for people who do not have the appropriate access, digital skills or confidence to complete the online application form. This Assisted Digital Service will include:
