Q1. Does the NMP appropriately guide management of Scotland's marine resources?

We consider that the NMP offers appropriate guidance for the management of Scotland's marine resources.

Q2. Does the NMP appropriately set out the requirement for integration between marine planning and land use planning systems?

We consider that the NMP appropriately sets out the requirement for integration between marine planning and land use planning systems.

Q3. Does the NMP appropriately guide development of regional marine planning? What, if any, further guidance is required for regional marine planners in terms of implementation and how to interpret the NMP?

We consider that the NMP appropriately guides the development of regional marine planning.
Q4. The Marine Regional Boundaries Consultation proposed that in addition to regional marine planning, further integrated management of key marine areas would be achieved by designating the Pentland Firth; the Minches and the mouth of the Clyde as Strategic Sea Areas.

Should the NMP set out specific marine planning policies for Strategic Sea Areas?

With regard to shipping, the Pentland Firth and the Minches are strategic routes for transiting traffic; there would be a benefit from specific marine planning policies reflecting this. Similarly, the Firth of Clyde and Firth of Forth can be considered as strategic destination routes.

Q5. Are the objectives and policies in the NMP appropriate to ensure they further the achievement of sustainable development, including protection and, where appropriate, enhancement of the health of the sea?

We consider that the objectives and policies in the NMP are appropriate to ensure sustainable development.

Q6. Chapter 3 sets out strategic objectives for the National Marine Plan and Chapters 6 – 16 sets out sector specific marine objectives.

Is this the best approach to setting economic, social and marine ecosystem objectives and objectives relating to the mitigation of and, adaptation to climate change?

We are content with the strategic objectives for the NMP.

Q7. Do you have any other comments on Chapters 1 – 3?

General Planning Policies

Q8. Are the general policies in Chapter 4 appropriate to ensure an approach of sustainable development and use of the marine area? Are there alternative policies that you think should be included? Are the policies on integration with other planning systems appropriate? A draft circular on the integration with terrestrial planning has also been published - would further guidance be useful?

The general policies in Chapter 4 are considered appropriate.
Q9. Is the marine planning policy for landscape and seascape an appropriate approach?

Transport (Shipping, Ports, Harbours & Ferries)

Q28. Should the NMP specifically designate national significant ports/harbours as described in Chapter 13: Marine Planning Policy Transport 2?

No. Any potential development should be evaluated in relation to all local port activities.

Q29. Do you have any comments on Transport, Chapter 13?

Chapter 13 appears to be balanced, recognising the importance of shipping activity. We welcome the commitment to protect navigational safety in relevant areas.

The wording of Transport 6 is considered confusing in that one cannot increase existing shipping route length without changing the described route.

Q30. Are there alternative planning policies that you think should be included in this Chapter?
