

FGM – A Statement Opposing Female Genital Mutilation

What is FGM?

FGM means any procedure that involves partial or total removal of the external female genitalia or other injury to the female genital organs for non-medical reasons.

FGM is also known as 'cutting' or 'female circumcision' and is sometimes referred to as 'sunna', although FGM is not approved by any religion.

FGM is a harmful traditional practice. Some girls die from blood loss or infection as a direct result of FGM. Women can experience health problems throughout their lives and FGM can cause difficulties with childbirth. There are no health benefits to FGM.

Scottish & UK Legislation

FGM is a crime in Scotland and throughout the UK (1). A UK national or permanent UK resident is guilty of a crime if they carry out FGM outside Scotland. It is also a crime for a person to assist or arrange the FGM of another person, even if the actual mutilation occurs outside Scotland.

(1) In Scotland it is illegal under the Prohibition of Female Genital Mutilation (Scotland) Act 2005. In England, Wales and Northern Ireland, the practice is illegal under the Female Genital Mutilation Act 2003.

Criminal Penalties

Anyone found guilty of an FGM offence – or of aiding and abetting such an offence – faces a penalty of up to 14 years in prison, a fine, or both.

Help & Support

If you are in the UK and have concerns that this may happen to you or someone you know, you can speak to a teacher, doctor, school nurse, social worker, police officer or any health, educational or social care professional. They will be able to help and support you.

You can also call the NSPCC on 0800 028 3550. This is a 24-hour helpline for anyone concerned about girls or women at risk of FGM.

If you are in the UK and are at immediate risk, or are concerned that you may be taken overseas for the purpose of FGM, please contact the police by dialling 999.

If you are abroad and require help or advice please call the Foreign and Commonwealth Office on +44 (0) 20 7008 1500 or the British High Commission or Embassy in the country you are visiting.

The Scottish Government
Riaghaltas na h-Alba

Contacts

FOR MORE INFORMATION GO TO
www.fgmaware.org

Or contact these organisations:

DIGNITY ALERT RESEARCH FORUM (DARF)

Campaigning and education work to end FGM
dignityalert@hotmail.co.uk
www.darf.org.uk

WOMEN'S SUPPORT PROJECT

Website has information and resources on FGM,
and details of organisations to help 0141 418 0748
wsproject@btconnect.com
<http://www.womenssupportproject.co.uk/vawtraining/content/resources/234/>

SHAKTI WOMENS AID

Support for women and children who are experiencing domestic abuse or forced marriage 0131 475 2399
info@shaktiedinburgh.co.uk
www.shaktiedinburgh.co.uk

AMINA: MUSLIM WOMEN'S HELPLINE

Support and information for women on any issue
0808 801 0301
info@mwrc.org.uk
www.mwrc.org.uk

This statement aims to help protect girls from Female Genital Mutilation (FGM).

Keep it in your passport or in a purse or wallet that you carry with you all the time – especially when you go abroad.

You can show it to your family, friends and relatives. This statement makes it clear that FGM is a serious criminal offence in Scotland and throughout the UK, with a maximum penalty of 14 years in prison for anyone found guilty of the offence.

Signatures

Mr Alex Neil
Cabinet Secretary for Social Justice Communities
and Pensioners Rights

Mr Michael Matheson
Cabinet Secretary for Justice

Ms Shona Robison
Cabinet Secretary for Health

Ms Angela Constance
Cabinet Secretary for Education and Lifelong Learning

Ms Fiona McLeod
Minister for Children and Young People

Mr Frank Mulholland QC
Lord Advocate

Sir Stephen House QPM
Chief Constable, Police Scotland.

This statement is supported by Scottish Ministers, the Lord Advocate and Police Scotland

© 2015

FGM