

Legacy 2014 SFA and Malawi FA Programme

This programme aims to support on-going knowledge and skill transfer between the two nations which will continue beyond the 2014 Games. This partnership will also involve a pilot of the highly successful 'SFA School of Football' programme with a school in Malawi, providing an excellent opportunity to develop future sporting links and empower communities in both Scotland and Malawi.

The SFA will use their experience of current initiatives in Scotland and adjust these to suit the social, economic and health needs of the people of Malawi.

Increased participation and development of infrastructure for football in Malawi through:

- A series of SFA-led education courses designed to develop Malawi's football coaching skills

Working with local education authorities in Malawi to explore the potential of replicating the highly successful 'School of Football' programme, currently operating in Scotland. This initiative involves providing daily football coaching to better engage and integrate young people within schools.
