Hi David

As promised, please find attached the comments from our recent survey which our Education Committee thought would be most useful for us to share with you, both in terms of their content and number. They're grouped by Local Association.

I and my colleagues found the comments to make grim reading often, their tenor very much echoing the persistent warnings that the EIS has given about these assessments.

We hope that your team will give serious consideration to this feedback in your ongoing deliberations around SNSAs, including that related to the conversations that you have with Ministers.

Best wishes
