Hello [REDACTED]

I have kept the three points very specific to the VIP dinner. I assumed those high level messages would form the key messages for the wider briefing pack and would be used at all of the separate engagements. Those messages would also be important for the dinner but I focussed on who is around the table and the collateral that will be there.

Thanks,

Hi [REDACTED]

Just getting round to looking at this as trying to pull wider briefing pack together but grateful if you could review top three points. The 3 points I can cover in opening remarks. This section is for top lines – what are the key points we want to deliver to the audience in the room... i.e.

- We are strengthening Scotland's economy through/so that ...
- We will focus on xxx including the priority areas of xxx...
- Unlocking investment has the capacity too xxx

Have copied in [REDACTED] just in case I am coming at this from the wrong angle.

Cheers much
