Hi Ian,

Just to make you aware that an independent analyst has submitted a bid to carry out the analysis of responses for the Panel's consultation. Analytical colleagues and myself have had an initial look at the bid and see no reason why the contract shouldn't be awarded. I have attached the bid for your consideration. If you are happy then I can make the necessary arrangements and organise an inception meeting next week to get things rolling. I appreciate you are on leave for 2 weeks so I am happy to feedback any comments or questions you may have on your behalf. Once confirmed I can update the Panel for you to inform them of the appointment.

Many Thanks
Philip
