Thank you.

2.30 on Thursday is fine. My colleague [REDACTED] may join us.

Information on St Andrew's House is at: <https://www.gov.scot/about/contact-information/buildings/#SAH>

[REDACTED] will check and see if a room is available in St Andrew's House. If not (it's hard to find rooms), and with many apologies, I might need to suggest we switch our meeting to one of the other Scottish Government buildings in Edinburgh. I'll confirm the building once we have a room.

Thank you, [REDACTED], for agreeing to meet with [REDACTED] and myself this week at your office in St Andrews House on Thursday 29th August at 2.30pm. I can confirm that that time and place suits us both.

I am sure this meeting can be of doubly good value to you as a follow up on your promise last autumn to engage more with qualified child and family helping professionals as you proceed with Scotland's New Family Law Bill.

Both of us made substantial submissions to the Scottish Government's consultation a year ago. Nor have we been idle since then.

[REDACTED] and I look forward to meeting you.
