Scottish Ministers' public sector pay policy applies to the following public bodies: The Scottish Government and its Associated Departments; Agencies; Non-Departmental Public Bodies (NDPBs); Public Corporations; NHS Scotland Executive and Senior Management posts; and Ministerial Appointments not covered by any of the organisations above.

A full list of public bodies is available at: www.gov.scot/Topics/Government/public-sector-pay/staff-pay/public-bodies-covered

The policy also applies to all public appointments under the auspices of the Scottish Ministers. This includes, but is not limited to:

- All public appointments to Non-Departmental Public Bodies (NDPBs) and public corporations
- Non-executive directors of the Scottish Government and its agencies and associated departments
- Chairs and board members of Public Bodies
- Chairs and board members of short life and ad hoc working groups etc.
- Appointments to tribunals, appeals boards, advisory committees and inquiries
- Appointments to lead Reviews, Inquiries etc.

The Pay Policy does not apply to the remuneration of Senior Civil Servants as this is a reserved matter and operates within the UK Cabinet Office pay and performance management framework.

Please see attached spreadsheet for agency staff pay figures. Please note that this is the theoretical annual salary of staff calculated at the end of April for each year. Therefore the diversity and salary figures are both referring to the same group of people as they were in post at this point of each calendar year. It does not take in to account any changes in working pattern that these people may have had throughout the year or any staff turnover.
