At our meeting earlier today, David and Penelope asked us to e-mail with the (including resourcing) implications of FM deciding to opt for full closure of Places Of Worship (POW) as part of any tightening of Level 4 restrictions, whilst also setting out any policy considerations around this. Apologies this, reaches you late (and not formatted as suggested below).

At present, level 4 entails a cap on POW of 20 with a cap of 50 applying at all other levels. The caps are in guidance only, not regulations and that guidance details how POW can safely open at all levels. As such the move of most of Scotland into level 4 on Boxing Day will entail a significant reduction in gatherings at POW.

Our recommendation [Redacted -30(b)(i)]. This is because:

- [Redacted -30(b)(ii)].

[Redacted -30(b)(i)] this would be achievable as follows:

- adapt relevant existing Impact Assessments (EQIA, BRIA etc), drafted to cater for re-opening, to full closure [Out of scope].

Good afternoon colleagues,

[Out of scope].

The presumption is to provide consistency and to tighten restrictions where possible/sensible, focusing firmly on mitigating Harm 1 in recognition of the changing situation with the virus.

We would therefore be grateful for confirmation of what timescales the tasks below could be completed in over the coming days, if we are required to deploy any changes urgently after Christmas.

- [Out of scope].
- Material for Impact Assessments to be produced, depending on the nature of the change.

[Redacted -30(b)(ii)].

With apologies for the tight deadline, grateful for your input by 1600 today.

Many thanks,

Document 3 - Submission to the Cabinet Secretary for Communities on the Tightening of Places of Worship – 29 December 2020

From: [Redacted -38(1)(b)]
Connected Communities

29 December 2020

Cabinet Secretary for Communities and Local Government

COVID-19 TIGHTENING RESTRICTIONS AT LEVEL 4: PLACES OF WORSHIP

Purpose

1. To outline options for tightening of restrictions on places of worship at protection level 4 and to seek your views on those options. Final decisions on restrictions will be taken by the First Minister.

Priority

2. Urgent - This work is being carried out on a contingency basis to enable the Scottish Government to implement additional restrictions quickly should that be necessary.

Background

3. COVID-19 cases in Scotland are rising again in parts of the country and a new variant of the virus has been identified and is circulating in Scotland.
4. From 26 December 2020, the whole of mainland Scotland will be placed in protection level 4. Orkney, Shetland and the Western Isles, and the other island communities areas will go into level 3.
5. The new variant of the virus is more transmissible; it spreads more rapidly. As more information about the new variant becomes available, it may be that a decisive action has to be taken quickly to tighten restrictions at level 4. The level of tightening has yet to be determined [Redacted – Section 29(1)(a)]. In either event The Health Protection \(Coronavirus\) \(Restrictions and Requirements\) \(Local Levels\) \(Scotland\) Regulations 2020 will need to be amended.
6. This submission sets out the options for a tightening of restrictions at level 4 for places of worship.

Places of Worship and Current Restrictions in Level 4

7. Scotland's COVID-19 Strategic Framework sets out the current restrictions for places of worship.

8. In level 4, places of worship, are permitted to open with restricted numbers of up to 20 people in attendance (the limit on numbers is only in guidance). This number is a departure from the other levels as set out in the framework. Apart from level 4, restrictions for places of worship are consistent throughout levels 0 – 3 (with restricted numbers of up to 50 people in attendance). As discussed at para 4, the majority of Scotland is now in level 4 - places of worship will therefore have to reduce their maximum permitted numbers from 50 to 20 (representing a reduction of 60%).
9. People can travel within Scotland to/from a level 3 area to attend their normal place of worship. However, the same is not permitted to/from a level 4 area. This will further impact the ability of worshippers to attend their normal service if it is the case that it is located in different local authority from their ordinary dwelling. An exception is made for Ministers of religion or worship leaders, with travel between areas is permitted for the purposes of leading an act of worship.
10. It should be noted that the restrictions on numbers in places of worship are in guidance only. They are not provided for in the regulations. Similarly, the guidance only details how places of worship can open safely at all levels.
11. Different restrictions are in place for the use of places of worship for funeral services and marriage and civil partnership ceremonies. [Out of scope].

Public Health Impacts – Places of Worship During COVID-19

12. At the beginning of the first UK-wide lockdown (March 2020) places of worship were initially closed completely for worship (both individual and communal).
13. As detailed in Phase 2 of the Scottish Government's 'route map' out of COVID-19, individual or private prayer was permitted in June 2020. In Phase 3 of the route map (July 2020) the Scottish Government allowed places of worship to reopen with a cap of 50 people, and subject to other safety precautions as set out in our Places of Worship Guidance.
14. The cap of 50 people for places of worship was then replicated in Levels 0-3 of the Scottish Government's Strategic Framework (replacing the phased approach as per the earlier 'route map'). As discussed, level 4 restricts places of worship to a maximum of 20 people.
15. [Redacted -30(b)(ii)].
16. In terms of the impact on public health and the spread of COVID-19, the Scottish Government has been notified of only one small outbreak with a Church in Lanarkshire. In this instance the case numbers totalled two individuals. Of course a caveat to this figure is that there may have been more outbreaks occurring at places of worship, of which the Scottish Government has not been notified.
17. [Redacted -30(b)(i)].

Options for Tightening Places of Worship Restrictions

18. Should the introduction of stricter measures be necessary at level 4, the options for places of worship are set out below.

19. [Redacted – Section 29(1)(a)]

20. [Redacted – Section 29(1)(a)]

30. [Redacted – Section 29(1)(a)]

31. [Redacted – Section 29(1)(a)]

32. [Redacted -30(b)(i)].

Option D: fully restrict the operation of places of worship

33. This option is the most restrictive. It would see places of worship unable to admit worshippers, even for individual prayer or contemplation only. This reflects the position for places of worship during the first phase of the pandemic. [Redacted – Section 29(1)(a)].

34. [Redacted -30(b)(ii)]. Ministers would still need to take cognisance of ECHR considerations if such an approach was deemed favourable.

35. This option will require analysis of the “four harms” including (on harm 1) an assessment of the risks of keeping POW option and the potential benefits of closure to reduce transmission.

36. [Out of scope]

37. This option is recommended only in the instance that there is agreement that to do otherwise would:

- i. compromise the integrity of related ‘stay at home’ messaging; and/or
- ii. create insurmountable inconsistencies as level 4 guidance is further tightened for similar-sized gatherings and arrangements with similar transmission risks; and/or
- iii. run counter to the protection of public health.

Subject: RE: Immediate for comments submission to FM 31.1

David et al

From a harms perspective I have tried to bring together various ideas that are on email chains and comment from a four harms perspective.

[Redacted - Out of Scope]

- Places of worship – reducing the numbers allowed to places of worship will make no real difference so the options considered are private prayer only or complete closure. – From a Harm 1 perspective the latter should have a moderate to high impact (given the 800,000 people who regularly engage in congregational worship) as it reduces the potential for meeting which could also reduce individual risk for older people and people from ethnic minorities who may be overrepresented in this category. Private prayer only will have a more modest impact on Harm 1, quite low. From a harm 2 and 3 perspective we know that the mental health detriment of restricting congregational worship or closing places of worship are potentially very significant for faith communities. Increased isolation and loneliness and a loss of community could impact on mental and potentially physical health. Alternately it may be a relief to some more vulnerable members of the congregation if they know they cannot attend and a difficult decision on whether to risk attending is take out of their hands by closure.

Setting this all out has been helpful for me if not for you. Let me know if I missed anything.
