Hi Roz, thanks for flagging this. I've checked back with the policy team involved and the meeting was on the 21st of June at 1.15 with Mr Lochhead and [redacted]. You're right, it wasn't the 20th.

Really sorry about this and we will change the date in the response if you agree on the date.

Many thanks,

Hi [redacted],
I definitely attended a roundtable with officials & other stakeholders on the 20th July but I don't think the meeting on 20th June with the Fair Work Minister went ahead. I had to cancel at short notice [redacted]. As far as I'm aware nobody substituted for me but perhaps I'm wrong. Can you check this for accuracy?
Ta Roz

Hello Roz,

I am getting in touch as we have received an Fol request to ask if the Scottish Government has held any conversations with the STUC on the topic of the independence prospectus.

We intend to issue the attached response on Thursday and wanted to make you aware in advance.

I hope this is okay but please get in touch if you would like to discuss.

Many thanks,

Item 2 - 21st June meeting note

In attendance:

Mr Lochhead (RL)

Roz Foyer (RF)

[redacted]

[redacted]

RL commented that now is right time to give Scotland all the tools required to tackle the crisis – borrowing powers, minimum wage. These should be seen as a package with also the “wealth creating” powers.

Item 3 – 20th July Meeting invite text

Good afternoon everyone,

Thank you for agreeing to participate in the 'Building a New Scotland' economy roundtable next week and please see the link below to allow you to join the discussions.

The session will be chaired by our Director for Fiscal Policy and Constitution, Lucy O'Carroll.

There are no papers for the meeting, it is intended an opportunity for you to offer your views, ideas and expertise to help inform the economy aspects of the prospectus for an independent Scotland – all conversations will be in confidence.

We will move into the discussion after some short introductions.

Many thanks
