

Annex

The Scottish Government does not have the information you have asked for because Cabinet minutes provide a full account of decisions made but are not a verbatim record. As such, it is not possible to determine with certainty the precise number of times a particular topic has been discussed at Cabinet nor when a topic was first raised at Cabinet within a particular timeframe.

This is a formal notice under section 17(1) that the Scottish Government does not have the information you have requested.
