

[extract begins]

Why have you used unadjusted Irish GDP for international comparisons?

Of course there are issues with Irish GDP which is why the reader is asked to 'please read the footnote' which highlights the issues and references Central Bank of Ireland explainers.

It should be emphasised that the statistics used in the paper are drawn directly from the OECD database.

[extract ends]