34th SUMMIT MEETING OF THE BRITISH IRISH COUNCIL

It is my pleasure to invite you to the 34th Summit meeting of the British-Irish Council, which will be held on 6th November 2020.

I am sure you will understand the difficulties we have faced in making arrangements under these unique circumstances. In an effort to ensure that the Summit goes ahead regardless of restrictions in place in November, I propose that the Summit is held via video conferencing facilities.

My officials are making the necessary arrangements and will liaise with your offices via the BIC Coordinators network.

It is with regret that this means I will be unable to welcome you to Scotland in person however, I am sure you will agree that this proposal is a sensible approach under the current circumstances and I look forward to meeting with you, virtually, in November.

For Nicola
Sturgeon
