Can you take out the Bellagio reference from the graphic – so would just be FM to attend Global Women Leader's Summit.

Just adding [Redacted] to copy so that whatever lines are agreed can be added to our weekend handover note to on call colleagues.

Is everyone happy with these lines to take and do we know when FM plans to tweet so we can give the duty team a heads up?

Hi [Redacted],

I have a programme which I can share with you but this is a closed event and the organisers have asked for no promotion in advance of the summit taking place.

As Emily has mentioned below it may be helpful to have a few generic lines ready to distribute on Sunday (although that is still being discussed) about FM being in Italy (not mentioning Bellagio at all) and keeping it high level and if we need to give more detail stick to along the lines of FM attending a Global Women's Summit in Italy topics include protecting Women's Rights in modern world and climate change and will report in full on return.

Copying Liz and Colin as they have discussed with FM.

FMPO will have programme details but just to jump in on a comms matter – I think we'll need a generic reactive line on the fact that FM is attending in case we're asked..

Could comms work something up so that we have it ready for over the weekend if needed?

Thanks,

Hi all,

Is anyone able to send me more information about this trip over and above the original invitation?

It looks like the discussions all appear to be off the record so does that mean there won't be anything for us to promote and comms support won't be required? Of course more than happy to staff, it would just be helpful to know what FM is actually doing to see where/if we can add value on the comms side.

Kind regards,
