There does appear to be a treaty with Libya, it was included as background in yesterday's media request. Treaty between the UK and Libya on extradition - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

But taking in everyone's comment, and the question has changed slightly now and is about PI rather than any investigation. If there's no further comments then I'll send back the updated answer by 12:30.

There are challenges in ensuring the participation in an inquiry. I am not in a position to share further on this today. However, as the public inquiry is established I will address parliament with further details.

Adding colleagues with responsibility (I think) for extradition policy.

Although the waters may be being muddied. Whether Mr Eljamel is extradited it would be to face criminal charges. The PI is a civil process so not really a question of extradition.

There does appear to be a treaty with Libya, it was included as background in yesterday's media request. Treaty between the UK and Libya on extradition - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

But taking in everyone's comment, and the question has changed slightly now and is about PI rather than any investigation. If there's no further comments then I'll send back the updated answer by 12:30.

Thanks both – would this response be ok?

There are challenges in ensuring the participation in an inquiry. I am not in a position to share further on this today. However, as the public inquiry is established I will address parliament with further details.

Adding colleagues with responsibility (I think) for extradition policy.

Although the waters may be being muddied. Whether Mr Eljamel is extradited it would be to face criminal charges. The PI is a civil process so not really a question of extradition.
