Subject: GP Appointments

Good morning [Redacted],

As discussed on Teams Special Advisers have highlighted the story in the Daily Telegraph this morning that Wes Streeting is committing £100m to deliver 8 million more GP appointments in England.

They are concerned that this will be compared with the steps we are announcing today in PfG.

Would it be possible to get comparative stats on the number of GP appointments as we have them here?

Spads have also asked if we can also find out what this will mean in terms of % of health budget going to primary care/GPs in England please.

Thanks,
