Reason For Review

A section 86 or section 152 determination was received by the Mental Health Tribunal for Scotland on:

	/			/

The Mental Health Tribunal for Scotland reviewed this determination because:

- there is a difference between the type (or types) of mental disorder that the patient has and the type (or types) of mental disorder recorded in the order in respect of which the determination is made;
- the MHO disagrees with the determination or has failed to comply with the duty imposed by the Act to make their views on the determination known to the RMO;

Date

- O the order to which the determination relates is a compulsion order, and no decision has been made by the Tribunal in respect of the order during the period of two years ending with the day on which the order, had it not been extended by the determination, would have ceased to authorise the measures specified in it.
- the order to which the determination relates is a compulsory treatment order, and the conditions mentioned in Section 101(2)(b) of the Act are satisfied - see note below
- either the patient, the patient's named person or a listed person has appealed against the determination to extend the order.

Note

The conditions mentioned in Section 101(2)(b) of the Act, as referred to above, are:

- (a) that the order was made 2 or more years before the renewal day;
- (b) that this section did not require the Tribunal to review the previous determination made under Section 86 of this Act in relation to the order: and
- (c) that, in the period of 2 years ending with the day before the renewal day, no application has been determined by the Tribunal under Section 92, 99, 95 or 100 in relation to the order.
