Review progress so far

The Vice Chair updated the panel on current progress of the review:

- meetings with expert witnesses have finished
- the draft review is bringing together information from:
 - the call for evidence and engagement programme
 - discussions of the Independent Review Panel and the Practitioner and Stakeholder Panel

Thoughts from the Chair

The Chair of the review was not at the meeting so this item did not happen.

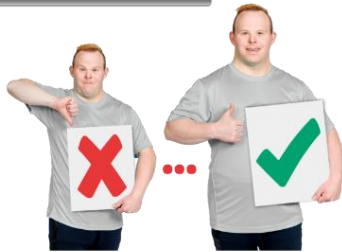

Is there anything else we need to talk about?

A member of the secretariat thanked panel members for their feedback on the draft Equality Impact Assessment and confirmed it is being looked at.

Feedback is what people think about something.

Draft means it is not the final version.

Equality Impact Assessments are ways to make sure the way people work, and work policies treat everyone fairly and equally.

The secretariat will email panel members about any changes to the Equality Impact Assessment draft.

The secretariat said all draft impact assessments would be checked and updated after the review has made its recommendations.

A recommendation is what the review thinks should happen.

The secretariat will email members with new dates for panel members to give feedback on all draft impact assessments.

Panel members asked for another meeting with the Chair of the review.

This would be helpful to understand:

- themes in the review
- draft recommendations

The Vice Chair agreed to take all feedback from panel members back to the Chair and then say what will happen next.
