Executive Summary

Overview

This is the twelfth two-monthly report on the Coronavirus Acts, in which the Scottish Government sets out the status and operation of the legislation necessary to respond to the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic. This report is the latest in our regular reporting on coronavirus-related legislation to ensure that the Scottish Parliament has oversight of the legislation, allowing it to hold the Scottish Ministers to account for their use of the powers available to them, and is important as part of our commitment to transparency.

Continued importance of the Coronavirus Acts

COVID-19 is first and foremost a public health crisis, and the measures to combat it have been necessary to save lives and livelihoods. The measures introduced by the Scottish Coronavirus Acts were largely intended to ensure that public services could continue to discharge their duties effectively whilst adhering to public health restrictions in an effort to limit the spread of the virus.

As this report is published, we are seeing the phasing out of many of the restrictions and legal requirements that have so severely impacted our lives for the past two years. However, we remain in a challenging situation and continue to assess the data carefully to ensure we have the right measures in place to suppress the extent and the impact of coronavirus on our communities. The COVID-19 Strategic Framework was published in February and sets out our evolving approach to managing the pandemic in the longer term as we prepare for a calmer phase in the pandemic and seek to sustain it. The Framework makes it clear that we intend to rely much less on legal requirements going forwards and much more on people and organisations taking basic, sensible steps to reduce the risk of and harm from COVID-19. This less restrictive approach will support the broad recovery and better future that we all want to see, whilst retaining the ability to take decisive action to deal with future outbreaks.

As we move forward in our handling of COVID-19, the measures we take to protect the public will continue to be reviewed to ensure they are appropriate, and we are committed to doing this transparently. Parts of both the UK and Scottish Coronavirus Acts expired in March 2022, and details on this are included in section 5 of this report. We continue to be committed to only retaining legislative provisions where they are necessary and appropriate.

Ministers' review of the twelfth report – statement by Ministers on necessity and status of provisions

This twelfth coronavirus report covers the period from 1 February to 31 March 2022. Scottish Ministers have undertaken a review of the provisions of Part 1 of the Coronavirus (Scotland) Act 2020 (“the first Scottish Act”) and the Coronavirus (Scotland) (No.2) Act 2020 (“the second Scottish Act), and the provisions of the Coronavirus Act 2020 (“the UK Act”) for which the Scottish Parliament gave legislative consent, in order to consider whether the provisions remain necessary.

Ministers are satisfied that the status of those provisions at the end of this reporting period is appropriate, and will continue to keep this under review going forwards as we continue to move towards recovery from COVID-19.

Scottish Ministers have also undertaken a review of the Scottish Statutory Instruments (SSIs) to which section 14 of the second Scottish Act applies. Ministers are satisfied that the status of those SSIs at the end of the reporting period is appropriate

Next steps

I welcome this opportunity to continue to update the Scottish Parliament on the operation of the Coronavirus Acts and continue to stand ready to engage with the Parliament in its scrutiny of this twelfth report.

John Swinney MSP
Deputy First Minister and Cabinet Secretary for Covid Recovery

1. Introduction

- 1.1. As required by section 15 of the first Scottish Act (Coronavirus (Scotland) Act 2020), and section 12 of the second Scottish Act (Coronavirus (Scotland) (No.2) Act 2020), this report includes information on the operation of the provisions of Part 1 of each of those Acts. It also includes an update on the status of those provisions, and confirmation that Scottish Ministers are satisfied that the status of those provisions is appropriate.
- 1.2. The report also covers the reporting requirements relating to Scottish Statutory Instruments (SSIs) made by Scottish Ministers where the main purpose relates to coronavirus, excluding those made by Scottish Ministers under the first or second Scottish Act or UK Act (Coronavirus Act 2020).
- 1.3. The UK Act does not set out an equivalent statutory requirement for reporting by the Scottish Government or other Devolved Administrations. However, as with the approach taken to previous reports, the Scottish Government has included information on the provisions in the UK Act for which the Scottish Parliament gave legislative consent.

2. Scottish Government approach to reporting

- 2.1. In continuing to review and develop the Government's approach to reporting, it has been recognised that some measures in the legislation may have greater impact than others on individuals or groups (people with one or more of the protected characteristics listed in the Equality Act 2010), or more generally on equality and human rights. In assessing the equality impact of the measures the Scottish Government has considered the measures in light of the requirements of the Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) as set out in section 149 of the Equality Act 2010, the need to eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation, advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not, and foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not. Public authorities are required to regularly publish equality information under the Scottish specific duties (including a new set of equality outcomes, pay gap information and equal pay statements). The Scottish Government last reported in March 2021<sup>1</sup>.
- 2.2. We have in this reporting period continued to reflect on the views and publications of key stakeholders with an interest in the areas of human rights, children's rights and equality impacts. The Scottish Government consideration of views includes those of the British Institute of Human Rights, the Scottish Human Rights Commission and the Children and Young People's Commissioner Scotland.
- 2.3. The approach to reporting on these impacts will be kept under review in line with legislation and in response to the views of the Scottish Parliament.

3. UK Government reporting and engagement

- 3.1. Review of the status, operation and continuing necessity of devolved provisions in the UK Act is part of the Scottish Government's two-monthly reporting to the Scottish Parliament, which provides the Parliament with an opportunity to scrutinise the judgements which have been made in the operation, and assessment of the continued necessity of those provisions.
- 3.2. The Scottish Government continues to engage and work with the UK Government and the other Devolved Administrations on the implementation and operation of the UK Act and to help ensure respective reporting arrangements operate successfully and appropriately alongside each other, to support robust and effective scrutiny of the legislation.

4. Further reporting

4.1 Coronavirus-related SSIs

Section 14 of the second Scottish Act requires Scottish Ministers to report on SSIs made by Scottish Ministers where the main purpose relates to coronavirus. This provision does not apply to SSIs made by Scottish Ministers under the first or second Scottish Acts or the UK Act. Information on SSIs, to which section 14 of the second Scottish Act applies, is included at section 8 of this report. In this report information has been included on a total of 146 SSIs – 7 of which are new to this reporting period – which are in scope for reporting under section 14 of the second Scottish Act.

4.2 Information about domestic abuse

Section 15A of the first Scottish Act and section 13 of the second Scottish Act require Scottish Ministers to take account of any information about the nature and number of incidents of domestic abuse occurring during the reporting period to which the review relates, given to them, or published by the Scottish Police Authority, or the Chief Constable of the Police Service of Scotland. Further, Scottish Ministers are required to explain in the report on that review, prepared under section 15 of the first Scottish Act and section 12 of the second Scottish Act, how the information was taken into account. The legislation does not require this information to be taken into account in the review of the powers under the UK Act, however we have made a decision to do so in order to ensure consistency in our approach and ensure the fullest possible consideration is given to this information.

In terms of our requirements under the legislation, consideration has been given to the provisions in the Scottish and UK Acts where domestic abuse may be deemed relevant. Where information on the nature and number of incidents of domestic abuse may be deemed of relevance to a provision, this has been considered as part of the assessment of whether the provision remains necessary.

The information used to support the review was published on 24 February 2022, as part of the Scottish Government Justice Analytical Services data report on how the coronavirus pandemic has affected the justice system. The data from Police Scotland highlights that looking cumulatively across April 2021 to January 2022, domestic abuse incidents were 2% lower than the equivalent period from April 2020 to January 2021 and 1% higher than the equivalent period from April 2019 to January 2020 (53,113 incidents recorded in April 2021 – January 2022, 54,451 incidents in April 2020 – January 2021, and 52,398 incidents in April 2019 – January 2020). The proportion of April 2021 to January 2022 incidents that include the recording of at least one crime or offence was 42.4%, which is lower than for the equivalent period the previous year (April 2020 to January 2021) of 43.3%.

Separate figures on crimes recorded under the Domestic Abuse (Scotland) Act 2018 are available from the Recorded Crime in Scotland monthly Official Statistics. There were 142 such crimes recorded by the police in January 2022, this is 15% higher than January 2021 (124 crimes) and 7% lower than January 2020 (153 crimes).

For the purposes of this reporting period, the information on the nature and number of incidents of domestic abuse has not impacted on the outcome of the assessment of whether the provisions remain necessary.

4.3 Additional reporting requirements

Schedule 4, paragraph 12 of the second Scottish Act requires the Scottish Ministers to lay a report before Parliament on their responses to requests for information under the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002. The eleventh 'Coronavirus (Scotland) (No.2) Act 2020: report on the Scottish Ministers' responses to requests for information under the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002'<sup>2</sup> was laid in Parliament and published on 8 April 2022.

Section 6(1) of the Coronavirus (Extension and Expiry) (Scotland) Act 2021 requires Scottish Ministers to include in this report:

- The measures in place to protect tenants from eviction and any plans for further measures the Scottish Ministers propose to put in place to protect tenants from eviction,
- The number of notices of proceedings issued to tenants in social housing as a result of rent arrears in the period,
- The total value of rent arrears in the social housing sector accumulated during the period, and
- The number of eviction orders because of rent arrears issued by the First-tier Tribunal for Scotland during the period

This reporting is covered in section 7.1.1.

5 Extension and expiry of the Coronavirus Acts

- 5.1 Part 1 of both Scottish Acts are now due to expire at the end of 30 September 2022, having been extended by SSI from end of 31 March 2022 to end of 30

September 2022. Four provisions of the Scottish Acts were expired by SSI on 30 March 2022 as these provisions were considered to be no longer necessary. We continue to be committed to only retaining legislative provisions where they are necessary and proportionate.

- 5.2 The UK Act has a sunset provision (section 89). The majority of the provisions under the Act expired on 24 March 2022, two years after the day it was passed, subject to certain excepted provisions which are set out in the legislation and any provisions which have been extended using powers provided by the Act. An SSI was made and laid in Parliament on 3 February 2022 to amend the expiry date of the following provisions of the UK Act for Scotland to 24 September 2022:
- section 18(2) and Part 2 of schedule 13 (registration of deaths and still-births);
  - section 36 (vaccination and immunisation: Scotland);
  - section 37(2) and the following provisions of Part 2 of schedule 16 (temporary closure of educational institutions and childcare premises): paragraphs 6, 7 (except insofar as it would relate to a direction under paragraph 8 of schedule 16), 8(6) to (8), 10 and 11, and 12 and 13 (except insofar as they relate to a direction under paragraph 8 of schedule 16)
  - section 38(2) and Part 2 of schedule 17 (temporary continuity directions etc: education, training and childcare);
  - section 49 (and schedule 19 (health protection regulations: Scotland)).
- 5.3 The other provisions in the UK Act that were due to expire on 24 March 2022<sup>3</sup> expired on that date.

6 Status update

- 6.1. Table One below provides detail on the status and operation of the provisions under Part 1 of the first and second Scottish Acts, and the provisions of the UK Act for which the Scottish Parliament gave legislative consent.
- 6.2. This includes information on the provisions which have been expired or suspended. Where provisions have been expired or suspended during this reporting period, but were in operation for part of it, these have been marked as “in operation”.
- 6.3. Where it is indicated in Table One that provisions have been expired as they are ‘spent’ provisions, this may mean that the provisions make amendments to other legislation and therefore the provisions themselves no longer need to remain in force. The operation of section 15(2) (d) of the Interpretation and Legislative Reform (Scotland) Act 2010 means that the expiry of these provisions does not affect the amendments they have made to other legislation. The effect of the expiry is simply to remove the ‘spent’ provisions in each of the Scottish Acts. Other provisions have been described as ‘spent’ as they no longer have any practical effect as their purpose has now been served.

<sup>3</sup>Provisions listed in section 89(2) of the Act are not subject to the sunset provision and so do not expire at the end of the 2 year period.

- 6.4 As outlined above, this approach to reporting will ensure that the Parliament is given as much information as is available across all of the provisions in the relevant legislation, but with a particular emphasis on those provisions which have been identified as being likely to have the most significant impacts or interest. Where supplementary information has been provided, this is indicated within the 'operation of the provision in the reporting period' column within Table One, and further information is provided at section seven. For descriptions of the provisions, please refer to the ninth report.

The use of virtual hearings as well as remote jury centres has been a key measure to support the continued operation of the courts. SCTS figures published on 3 March for the 3rd Quarter of 2021/22 (October-December) show that across all courts, the number of trials in the backlog rose slightly that quarter by 1.1% to 43,016 scheduled trials outstanding at the end of December 2021. The figures reflect the impact of the COVID Omicron variant which resulted in measures to manage overall footfall in the courts and an increased number of adjournments due to self-isolation requirements. The additional 16 trial courts introduced on 6 September 2021 have mitigated the impact of the COVID Omicron variant.

First Scottish Act	Section 5 and schedule 4, Part 9 - Legal Aid	In operation Many providers of legal aid services continue to experience disruption to cash flow and the provisions will support access to payment prior to a case concluding.  As we emerge from the public health crisis, maintaining a legal aid sector will be crucial to the recovery of the justice system and the resolution of problems associated with the pandemic and resulting economic shock. To support this position these provisions require to remain in place.	Commenced and still in force No change to status since last reporting period

The power to postpone reporting should only be used as necessary to enable public authorities to focus on the coronavirus response. ### First Scottish Act

7.1.1 Section 2 and schedule 1 – Eviction from dwelling houses

Reporting on the status of eviction provisions and measures in place to protect tenants from eviction and any plans for further measures the Scottish Ministers propose to put in place to protect tenants from eviction

7.1.1.1. Section 6(1) of the Coronavirus (Extension and Expiry) (Scotland) Act 2021 (“the 2021 Act”) requires the Scottish Ministers to report on: the number of notices of proceedings issued to tenants in social housing as a result of rent arrears; the value of rent arrears in social housing; and the number of evictions orders issued by the First-tier Tribunal for Scotland because of rent arrears.

7.1.1.2. Paragraph 1(2) of schedule 1 makes provision for all private rented sector eviction cases going before the First-tier Tribunal (Housing and Property Chamber) to be considered on a discretionary basis. As of 28 February 2022, the First-tier Tribunal (Housing and Property Chamber) confirmed that it had received 1186 applications that fall within the scope of the emergency provisions. Of these, 423 had the order granted, 26 were refused, 84 were rejected at sifting, 268 were withdrawn and 22 were dismissed.

7.1.1.3. An analysis of the decisions made by the First-tier Tribunal (Housing and Property Chamber) shows that between 9 July 2020 and 25 February 2022, there have been a total of 257 eviction orders issued relating to private residential tenancies (PRTs) where rent arrears were cited.

7.1.1.4. Latest available Coronavirus dashboard information published by the Scottish Housing Regulator<sup>21</sup> shows that the total value of rent arrears in the social sector increased substantially from £150.0m to £165.0m in the four months between the end of April 2020 and the end of August 2020, an increase of £15.0m (10.0%). The value of arrears subsequently stabilised across most months since then, and then decreased in March 2021 to stand at £160.7m as at end March 2021. Following this the value of arrears dropped further by £3.3m (2.0%) to £157.5m as at end June 2021, but has since risen again to £174.5m based on latest available figures to end December 2021.

7.1.1.5. The dashboard information also shows that the number of notices of proceedings for recovery of possession issued by social landlords for rent arrears increased each month from June 2020, rising from 246 in June 2020 up to 1,514 in November 2020. After this the numbers decreased to 699 in January 2021, 875 in February 2021 and 934 in March 2021. Following which there have been 3,641 notices issued in the quarter April to June 2021 (an average level of 1,214 per month), 4,417 notices issues in the quarter July to September 2021 (an average level of 1,472 per month), and 4,215 notices issues in the latest quarter October to December 2021 (an average level of 1,405 per month). The number of court actions initiated for eviction increased from 30 in June 2020 up to 102 in September 2020, after which the number fell to 63 in March 2021. Following this there have been 296 actions initiated in the quarter April to June 2021 (an average of 99 per month), 469 actions (an average of 156 per month) in the quarter July to September 2021, and 409 actions (an average of 136 per month) in the latest quarter October to December 2021, levels which are significantly lower when compared to average monthly figures for previous years.

- 7.1.1.6. Paragraph 8 of schedule 1 provides a power for Scottish Ministers, exercisable by the negative procedure, to modify the length of any period of notice specified to apply during the relevant period. In exercising this power, the Scottish Ministers cannot specify a notice period which is longer than six months. In light of the substantial impact anti-social behaviour can have on individuals and communities, Ministers exercised these powers in October 2020 to ensure that where landlords have clear evidence of anti-social or criminal behaviour, which cannot be resolved by other means, then they are able to take the necessary action to end the tenancy. It should be noted that Ministers can exercise their power under paragraph 8 at any time during the lifetime of the specific provisions in the emergency legislation.
- 7.1.1.7. The provisions which extend notice periods to - in effect - halt any eviction action under the existing legislation including the Private Housing (Tenancies) (Scotland) Act 2016 and the Housing (Scotland) Act 2001, for up to six months, have been used in the reporting period. This applies to both the social and private rented housing sectors in order to ensure that the position is absolutely clear for all landlords in Scotland.
- 7.1.1.8 In light of the significant relaxation of restrictions in the vast majority of other areas of life - and that the housing market has been open and operational for some time now - the public health justification for extended notice periods are much reduced compared to when the provisions were first enacted. Therefore Scottish Ministers intend to expire the extended notice period provisions within Schedule 1 of the Coronavirus (Scotland) Act 2020 on 30 March 2022.
- 7.1.1.9 There will be notices which have been issued under the existing arrangements and the applicable notice period will need to be clarified in those cases. The Regulations which will expire the extended notice periods on 30 March contain saving provisions which will preserve the extended notice periods for notices which were served prior to 30th March. Those Regulations also contain transitional provisions which cater for the scenario where an eviction notice was served prior to 30th March which has not yet expired and a new eviction notice is served on the tenant after that date but on any of the same grounds as the existing notice. In those circumstances, the extended notice periods will continue to apply to any new notice (served before the expiry of the existing notice) which seeks eviction on any of the same grounds as the existing notice. The reduced notice periods which will apply from 30th March will therefore capture eviction notices issued on or after that date where there is no existing unexpired eviction notice, and eviction notices served before the expiry of an existing notice on completely different grounds than the existing notice.

Additional Support

7.1.1.11. To further support renters facing eviction during the ongoing pandemic, regulations banning the enforcement of eviction orders in the private and social rented sectors came into force on 11 December 2020. The evictions ban was subsequently added to the Local Levels Regulations from 22 January 2021 and applied to areas subject to Levels 3 or 4 restrictions. On 5 March 2021, the Local levels Regulations (including the evictions ban in levels 3 and 4) were extended until 30 September 2021. The Local Levels Regulations (including the evictions ban) were revoked on 9 August 2021 by the Health Protection (Coronavirus) (Requirements) (Scotland) Regulations 2021. Accordingly, there is currently no ban on the enforcement of evictions in Scotland.

7.1.1.12. Social and private landlords have also reaffirmed their commitment to supporting tenants facing difficulties during the pandemic<sup>22</sup>.

7.1.1.13. Additional reporting requirements under section 6(1) of the 2021 Act require details of the measures in place to protect tenants from eviction and any plans for further measures. In relation to the additional measures in place to protect tenants, the Scottish Government has allocated a funding share from the £10m Tenant Grant Fund to all 32 local authorities, in order to provide grants to tenants who have fallen behind on their rent as a result of the pandemic and are at risk of eviction. This is in addition to the £10 million loan funding made available to tenants and the £5 million loan funding made available to landlords. All local authorities were asked to provide monitoring reports on the operation of the grant fund to 31 December 2021 and a further spending report was submitted to the Scottish Government the following month, providing a spending 'snapshot' up until 31 January<sup>23</sup>. This shows that over £1.8 million in grant has been paid to a total of 1,354 households, helping to sustain tenancies and prevent potential homelessness.

7.1.2 Section 5 and schedule 4, Part 4 – Extension of time limits

7.1.2.1. At this time, a significant backlog of cases continues to exist and the Scottish Government considers the extended time limits continue to be necessary. Evidence submitted by COPFS to the Criminal Justice Committee in March 2022 stated that there were currently 14,000 summary-only cases awaiting marking, 25% (around 3,500) of which were past their pre-pandemic time limit. Their evidence also noted that the number of sheriff and jury cases being prepared to bring before court has risen by 84% since March 2020 from 3,442 to 6,345. 742 cases are already older than the pre-pandemic time limit to be indicted, while a further 661 cases are approaching the pre-pandemic time limit. 854 of these cases have at least one accused in custody, of which 248 are older than the pre-pandemic time limit for service of indictment, while the remaining 606 are close to it. If the time limit extension provisions were not extended, this would result in an immediate requirement for 990 applications to extend time limits, with hundreds more over the coming months.

7.1.2.2. COPFS noted in their written evidence that as of 1 January 2022, there were 1,934 live cases in all High Court units – a 55% increase in live cases compared to April 2020. There are currently 339 cases which are over 7 months from the date of first appearance on petition and if the time limit extension were to cease imminently, COPFS would require to make at least 339 applications to the court to extend relevant time limits for the service of the indictment. There are 850 High Court cases which have been awaiting a trial date. Notably, none of the cases, custody or bail, scheduled for trial to commence between 10 January 2022 and 30 April 2022 are within the pre-pandemic time limit for a trial to commence. In summary, if the time limit extension provisions were not in effect, a large amount of resource would require to be diverted to make applications to extend time limits on a case-by-case basis, which would in turn impact on the ability of prosecutors and courts to address the backlog of cases.

7.1.3 Section 5 and schedule 4, Part 8 – Release of prisoners

7.1.3.1. These provisions were utilised to conduct a limited release of prisoners in May 2020 as detailed in the Release of Prisoners (Coronavirus) (Scotland) Regulations 2020 (SSI 2020/138).

7.1.3.2. The Scottish Government will continue to engage with the Scottish Prison Service (SPS) in relation to the potential future use of these powers, as one aspect of wider ongoing discussions of the impact of coronavirus on the prison system, and the safe management of the prison population. New variants of Covid have continued to have significant impact on the operation of the prison system, whether in response to any cases of infection amongst prisoners or prison officers and other SPS staff, the ongoing changes to the operation of the prison estate required to mitigate and prevent the potential spread of infection, and the changing effects of public health instructions on the operation of the prison estate.

7.1.3.3. While SPS continue to make strenuous efforts to limit and mitigate any risk, there remains a real concern that future Covid developments could still create circumstances that would make it necessary for Ministers to instruct a prisoner early release action, in order to reduce the strain on prison capacity and workforce (in the absence of other powers to give effect to release in this way). As required by the legislation, Ministers would need to be satisfied that the exercise of the powers is necessary and proportionate to the circumstances faced, with action being taken to maintain the effective operation of the prison system, and to protect the health and wellbeing of prisoners and prison staff. The scale and scope of any future application of the power would have to be considered in response to the circumstances at that time, before being set out in regulations, which would be subject to parliamentary scrutiny. Should it become necessary to implement an early release process in order to maintain security and good order, or the health, safety or welfare of prison staff and prisoners, the Scottish Government will work closely with justice partners, public and third sector services, and victims groups, in order to plan and deliver the necessary activities.

Second Scottish Act

7.2.1 Section 2 and schedule 1, Part 1 – Student residential tenancy: termination by tenant

7.2.1.1. Earlier in the current academic year, the levels system of restrictions was revoked and revised guidance published for universities, colleges and community learning and development providers. The guidance reflects an understanding that the virus remains unpredictable and significant risks remain and therefore, the provisions of the Act remain necessary at the moment.

7.2.1.2. The 28 day notice period has given students looking to find suitable accommodation in the current academic year reassurance that, should restrictions continue or more restrictive measures be re-introduced, either locally or nationally, that prevent students from taking up their accommodation as planned, they will not be held liable to pay for accommodation they are not able to use.

7.2.1.3. Stakeholders have reported that the exercise of 28 day notice period has contributed to financial losses.

7.2.1.4. The Scottish Government will continue to work with stakeholders through the Student Accommodation Group on the operation of the provisions to further inform action in this area. The Scottish Ministers have a power to bring forward the expiry of any provision of the Act or suspend the operation of any such provision should that be necessary.

7.2.2 Section 2 and schedule 1, Part 2 – Tenancies: pre-action requirements for order for possession or eviction order on ground of rent arrears

7.2.2.1. Schedule 1 of the first Scottish Act makes all grounds for repossession in the private rented sector discretionary, including for rent arrears. This temporarily changed the original position whereby the First-tier Tribunal for Scotland (Housing and Property Chamber) must grant a repossession order if the level of arrears is in accordance with the criteria laid out in the relevant legislation. This change ensures that the Tribunal considers the reasonableness of making a repossession order during the coronavirus outbreak.

- 7.2.2.2. The introduction of regulations under the provision temporarily set preaction requirements that will apply where all or part of the rent arrears have originated in the period during which paragraph 4 of schedule 1 of the second Scottish Act is in force. The extent to which a landlord has complied with these requirements must be taken into account by the First-tier Tribunal for Scotland (Housing and Property Chamber) when deciding whether it is reasonable to grant a repossession order.
- 7.2.2.3. The introduction of regulations formalises the steps landlords should take in relation to working with private sector tenants to manage arrears prior to seeking repossession during the coronavirus pandemic.
- 7.2.2.4. The Scottish Government has assessed the potential impact of these provisions on human rights, children's rights and equalities and considers the introduction of pre-action requirements will have a positive impact across those with protected characteristics including women and disabled people who may have been impacted by the consequences of coronavirus. The Scottish Government also considers these measures support the right to adequate housing under the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights by ensuring appropriate safeguards are in place to prevent unnecessary eviction.
- 7.2.2.5. The provisions were in force during the reporting period. The Rent Arrears Pre-Action Requirements (Coronavirus) (Scotland) Regulations 2020 (SSI 2020/304) came into force on 30 September 2020

7.2.3 Section 2 and schedule 1, Part 7 – Care Homes

- 7.2.3.1. Although these powers have been commenced and are available, they have not been used in this reporting period. Health Boards have not required to exercise their power of a direction over care homes using this legislation. Consequently, Health Boards have not had to use the corresponding power under section 63B of the Public Services Reform (Scotland) Act 2010 to act when said direction has not been complied with.
- 7.2.3.2. The Scottish Ministers have not required to make an application to the courts for an Emergency Intervention Order in relation to a care home under these powers. The Care Inspectorate updates Ministers of any care home providers about which they have serious concerns and provide regular updates to them to enable emergency action to be taken quickly if required.
- 7.2.3.3. No further regulations have been made under powers in section 65B during this Eleventh reporting period.
- 7.2.3.4. Whilst the effect of the pandemic has abated to some extent due to the relatively less serious effects of the Omicron variant and the fact that a large proportion of the population has been vaccinated and received boosters, the pandemic is still current – 12,421 new cases of COVID-19 were recorded on 23 March 2022, and 39 deaths were recorded on that date where the person had coronavirus. The effect of vaccination is not permanent. We continue to see significant outbreaks in care homes: as at 22 March, 343 (33%) adult care homes had a current case of suspected COVID-19. Furthermore, there is evidence that outbreaks in care homes have been more extensive. This has led to care homes often requiring considerable mutual aid and support from NHS and Local Authority partners. It's not only the nature of the resident population that makes them susceptible to coronavirus (age frailty underlying medical conditions), but also the fact that they all live together in close proximity with shared staff and regular visitors. There is a greater risk of the virus spreading in care homes.

7.2.4 Section 3 and schedule 2, Part 1 – Criminal justice – Expiry of undertaking under section 25(2)(a) of the Criminal Justice (Scotland) Act 2016

- 7.2.4.1. This provision provides the court with the power to prevent the expiry of an undertaking and any conditions attached to it by changing the time the person is due to appear at court.
- 7.2.4.2. By preventing the expiry of undertakings in this way, the measure has allowed the Crown Office and Procurator Fiscal Service (COPFS) to review the previously extended undertaking timescales, so dates may revert back to within 28 days of liberation, and 14 days for domestic abuse cases.
- 7.2.4.3. Retaining this provision will ensure the court continues to have the power to prevent the expiry of an undertaking and any conditions attached to it. If a person fails to appear at court as required by the terms of their undertaking, the court considers that the failure to appear is attributable to a reason relating to coronavirus and it is not appropriate to grant a warrant for the person's arrest.
- 7.2.4.4. This enables the preservation of protective conditions of undertaking that may otherwise be lost where a person fails to attend court due to coronavirus and is a key measure to preserve public and victim safety during the coronavirus outbreak, particularly in sensitive cases of domestic abuse

UK Act

7.3.1 Section 49 and schedule 19 – Health Protection Regulations: Scotland

- 7.3.1.1. Section 49 and schedule 19 came into force on 25 March 2020. The provisions give the Scottish Ministers power to make regulations for the purpose of preventing, protecting against, controlling or providing a public health response to the incidence or spread of infection or contamination with coronavirus in Scotland. These powers have been used to make regulations to provide for restrictions and requirements during the pandemic. The regulations made using these powers in this Twelfth reporting period are as follows:

- 24 February 2022: The Health Protection \(Coronavirus\) \(Requirements\) \(Scotland\) Amendment \(No.4\) Regulations 2022 \(SSI 2022/77\) were made. These Regulations amend the date on which the Health Protection (Coronavirus) (Requirements) (Scotland) Regulations 2021 expire from 28 February 2022 to 24 September 2022.
- 24 February 2022: The Health Protection \(Coronavirus\) \(Requirements\) \(Scotland\) Amendment \(No. 5\) Regulations 2022 \(SSI 2022/74\) were made. These Regulations remove from the Health Protection (Coronavirus) (Requirements) Regulations 2021 the provisions in relation to the COVID-19 vaccine certification scheme. These Regulations remove the requirement for certain premises to operate a system for checking that persons on, or seeking to enter, their premises are fully vaccinated against coronavirus, have received appropriate test results, or are otherwise exempt from that requirement. These Regulations also remove the requirement for certain premises to prepare a compliance plan to describe how their systems will operate and describe the other measures that they have in place to prevent or minimise the spread of coronavirus. They also remove supplemental provisions in relation to licensing for certain premises.
- 16 March 2022: The Health Protection \(Coronavirus\) \(Requirements\) \(Scotland\) Revocation Regulations 2022 \(SSI 2022/92\) were made. These Regulations remove from the Health Protection (Coronavirus) (Requirements) (Scotland) Regulations 2021 the provisions in relation to the requirement for persons responsible for restaurants, cafes, bars, public houses etc. to collect and share visitor information. These Regulations also remove the requirement for a person responsible for a place of worship, carrying on a business or providing a service to have regard to guidance issued by the Scottish Ministers and to take reasonable measures in that guidance to minimise the incidence and spread of coronavirus.
- 22 March 2022: The Health Protection \(Coronavirus, Restrictions\) \(Directions by Local Authorities\) \(Scotland\) Amendment Regulations 2022 \(SSI 2022/109\) were made. These Regulations amend the date on which The Health Protection (Coronavirus, Restrictions) (Directions by Local Authorities) (Scotland) Regulations 2020 (“the Directions Regulations”) expire from 25 March 2022 to 24 September 2022.
- 31 March 2022: The Health Protection \(Coronavirus\) \(Requirements\) \(Scotland\) Amendment \(No. 6\) Regulations 2022 \(SSI 2022/123\) were made. These Regulations remove from the Health Protection (Coronavirus) (Requirements) (Scotland) Regulations 2021 the provisions in relation to the requirement for persons who enter or remain indoors within a place of worship to wear a face covering. The requirement is removed in respect of any indoor public place which is used as a place of worship. These Regulations also remove the requirement for those at a marriage ceremony, civil partnership registration, funeral or commemorative event related to the end of a person's life to wear a face covering for the duration of the event. The requirement is removed in respect of such ceremonies and events in all indoor places.

Associated guidance on regulations made under schedule 19 has been regularly updated – see here for the current guidance on the Requirements Regulations - Coronavirus \(COVID-19\): guidance - gov.scot \(www.gov.scot\)-guidance).

- 7.3.1.2. Regulations under schedule 19 must be reviewed at least every 21 days to ensure that the measures they impose continue to be necessary and proportionate. In between these formal reviews, the individual measures are kept under continuous review. Changes arising from any review are set out to the Scottish Parliament in plenary and considered by the Parliament's COVID-19 Committee.
- 7.3.1.3. Changes to regulations under schedule 19 are assessed through the Four Harms approach, which draws on evidence and analysis to assess both current and future direct and indirect health impacts and the social and economic impacts of the pandemic and of proposed regulations. Underpinning this is Scotland's Strategic Framework which describes our latest approach to managing the pandemic. The Strategic Framework was reviewed and updated on 22 February 2022.
- 7.3.1.4. In addition, the Modelling the Epidemic series provides outputs from modelling of the spread and level of the epidemic by Scottish Government, as well as results by modelling groups feeding into the SAGE consensus. These help ensure a robust, peer-tested and up to date picture informs decisions.
- 7.3.1.5. Public Health Scotland ("PHS") also publish a COVID-19 weekly statistical report. This presents key information on the rollout of the vaccine, volumes of tests and data on Covid transmissions, prevalence of the new variant and case numbers, plus links to a range of research resources and tools.
- 7.3.1.6. Four Harms: Throughout the pandemic, decisions about restrictions and requirements have been taken on the basis of public health and clinical advice, and an assessment against the four harms caused by the virus. These decisions require judgement to be applied to the facts and considerations relevant at the time they are made. Decisions take in clinical advice from the National Incident Management Team and Scottish Government clinical leads – around the Harm 1 direct health impacts from COVID. Directors of Public Health monitor data on a daily and weekly basis and SG officials update the suite of indicators weekly. The National Incident Management Team considers this information alongside local data and analysis in providing public health advice.

7.3.1.7. This is brought together with evidence and the assessment of impact on the other Harms caused by the virus – including the indirect health harms, the social harms and harms to the economy. Wider considerations are also taken into account such as the prevalence of infection elsewhere, or of the characteristics of new variants – which might suggest differential impacts.

7.3.1.8. Measures imposed by regulations must be necessary and proportionate. Whilst statutory measures aim to deal with a significant threat to public health, throughout the development of the regulations and guidance, the Scottish Government has always had regard to the need to protect human rights, equality considerations, the impact on business and the particular needs of island communities as part of the policy development process. Appropriate impact assessments are carried out as part of this process and are reported to the Scottish Parliament. They can be found on www.legislation.gov.uk under the appropriate instrument.

8. Coronavirus-related Scottish Statutory Instruments

8.1 Section 14 of the second Scottish Act requires Scottish Ministers to report on all SSIs made by Scottish Ministers where the primary purposes relate to coronavirus. Information on SSIs, to which section 14 of the second Scottish Act applies, is included in Table Five below.
